To these we dedicate . . .

TO THESE MEN WHO HAVE SO GIVEN OF THEIR LIVES, ENERGIES, AND DEVOTION WE HUMBLY DEDICATE THIS BOOK THAT IT MIGHT SERVE AS A REMINDER TO SUCCEEDING GENERATIONS OF STUDENTS HERE THAT THROUGH THE EFFORTS OF SUCH MEN HAS COME THE GREATNESS OF CAROLINA.

THE LIFE BLOOD OF SUCH MEN AS THESE HAS TRULY BEEN THE LIFE BLOOD OF THE UNIVERSITY. AS THE UNIVERSITY IS DEDICATED TO THE FURTHERING OF OUR DEMOCRATIC SOCIETY THROUGH EDUCATION, SO THESE MEN HAVE DEDICATED THEMSELVES TO EDUCATION THROUGH THEIR SERVICE TO THE UNIVERSITY.

MAY THE EFFECT THESE TWO MEN HAVE HAD ON OUR UNIVERSITY COMMUNITY BE FELT AT LAST ON THE WORLD COMMUNITY.

THEREFORE, WE HUMBLY AND GRATEFULLY DEDICATE THIS, THE SIXTY-FIRST VOLUME OF OUR YEARBOOK, TO WILLIAM DE BERNIERE MACNIDER AND WILLIAM CHAMBERS COKER.

GORDON GRAY, President
WILLIAM D. CARMICHAEL, JR.,
Controller and Business Manager

TO THE CLASS OF 1951:

I am grateful for the opportunity afforded me by the Yackety Yack to extend my greetings to all Carolina students of this University generation.

I shall always have a particular affection for you who have been a part of Carolina this year, because you are the first student body I have been privileged to serve as President.

Especially do I wish to bid Godspeed to those who will not again be students here. You are the first of perhaps many, many thousands with whom I will have had a special affinity; may Heaven's blessings attend you as you leave this campus. And may you take a bit of Carolina with you, and keep it always in your hearts.

To all of you, wherever you may be, good luck.

Sincerely,

Gordon Gray
President

Inauguration...

After the Inaugural Sermon had been delivered at the Woman's College and the Convocation had taken place in Chapel Hill, Gordon Gray became the second president of the Consolidated Acting Consolidated University President William D. Carmichael, Jr. turns the Administration over to Gordon Gray.

Gordon Gray delivers his inaugural address as the second President of the Consolidated University of North Carolina.

The Inaugural Academic Procession of 1400 professors and scholars enters William Neal Reynolds Coliseum.

University of North Carolina in the final Inauguration ceremony in William Neal Reynolds Colosseum at State College on Tuesday, October 10, 1950.

Representatives from hundreds of colleges and universities all over the United States—and the world—marched in a chronological procession headed by the University Basel (Switzerland) (1460) and concluded by Wilmington College (1947). The eyes of the educational world were on this man as he assumed the duties of the chief executive of a great university at a crucial period in the history of man.

Gordon Gray pledged his allegiance and support to the State of North Carolina, to the federal republic of the United States of America, and to the cause of freedom throughout the world. The Consolidated University of North Carolina remains a servant of its state, a provider of democratic leaders of the nation, and a moral and intellectual support to a better world community.

The new President receives the oath of office from William Augustus Devin, Associate Justice of the North Carolina Supreme Court.

Chancellor...

Chancellor Robert House exemplifies what the student and professor like to see in their top policy maker. He is indeed a man of learning who puts the highest premium on the ultimate goal of education — education for citizenship. At the same time Chancellor House recognizes the problems of the processes of education and sets about to help the student solve them.

With these Deans rest the great responsibility of actually carrying out the principles of education in the various divisions of the University. Their task is not an easy one, for they must first be aware of the over-all policies of the University, then realize their responsibility to education itself, and to the schools under them. The essence of our stay here as students, the final result of our training, and what we actually do with our educational experiences when out in life will be largely a result of the farsightedness of these people.

Governor Kerr Scott

Kerr Scott, as Governor of the State of North Carolina, is chairman of the Board of Trustees of the University of North Carolina. The Board, composed of members from every county in the state, is the supreme governing body for the University, answerable only to the General Assembly.

J. HAROLD LINEBERGER
President,
Alumni Association

The Alumni Association

The great spirit and traditions that make Carolina what it is today still exist in that large body of citizens spread throughout the world. These ambassadors of the Carolina way of life still have a link with their Alma Mater in the Alumni Association.

Many towns and cities throughout the state have their own local alumni associations, coordinating their activities in the Chapel Hill office. Reunion of classes and meetings of other campus organizations have their headquarters in the General Alumni Office.

To keep the individual alumnus posted on the activities of the Association and the current activities at the University there is published every month The Alumni Review.

The officers are elected annually by the dues-paying members at large, and the very efficient office, located in the Carolina Inn, welcomes any and all contributions to help carry on the affairs of this "big family."

In the more than 40,000 Carolina alumni—both living and dead—the present student body makes resolute its faith in the future.

PLEASE KEEP THIS AREA CLEAN

At Work

Here we will see the Carolina student busily engaged in the process of higher education. He can be seen rising early in the morning to attend classes, returning to his room or to the library for study later in the day. The Carolina student prepares for his place in a peaceful, democratic society.

At Play

In the evening hours or on the week end, we will see the Carolina gentleman seeking to round out his educational program by broadening the scope of his social life. Here are made enduring friendships and memories of the sport of Carolina.

The Class of 1953

WE HAD A WHOLE YEAR OF CAROLINA TO OUR CREDIT, SO WE WERE NATURALLY BETTER ABLE TO VIEW WITH A CRITICAL EYE THE HAPPENINGS OF INTERNATIONAL IMPORTANCE. WE COMMENTED ON RUSSIA'S FOREIGN POLICY, THE U. N. AND WORLD PEACE—BRIEFLY BUT ASSURINGLY—OVER OUR MORNING "Y" COFFEE THEN WENT ON TO OUR POLITICAL SCIENCE CLASS.

ALONG WITH OUR NEWLY ACQUIRED WISDOM AND FINER APPRECIATION FOR THINGS ACADEMIC HERE AT CHAPEL HILL, A FEELING OF REVERENCE FOR THE PEACE THAT HALLOWED THE PATHS OF OUR CAMPUS GREW UP IN US. LOOKING AROUND US, WE WONDERED ABOUT THE FUTURE OF THE FAIR DEAL, OUR NEWEST SENATOR, AND—OURSELVES.

JUNIORS...

The Class of 1952

BY THIS TIME MOST OF US HAD MADE THE GREAT JUMP FROM GENERAL COLLEGE TO ONE OF THE UNIVERSITY'S DIVISIONS FOR OUR MAJOR. WE TOOK THE PAST PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION A LITTLE MORE SERIOUSLY, FOR SOON WE WOULD BE VOTING, TOO. WE COMPARED OUR CAMPUS POLITICIANS TO THOSE IN OUR STATE AND NATION AND THOUGHT TO OURSELVES, "JUST PRACTICING."

WE REMEMBERED OUR FIRST FALL HERE AND THE TEAM; WE WONDERED ABOUT THIS FALL. PRESIDENT TRUMAN DECLARED A NATIONAL EMERGENCY IN VIEW OF THE WORLD CRISIS, CONGRESS PASSED MORE DRAFT ACTS, AND WE STOPPED WONDERING ABOUT NEXT FALL.

MARSHALL PLAN ENACTED...

ECONOMIC COOPERATION ADMINISTRATION

10 YEAR BUILDING PROGRAM LAUNCHED AT U.N.C....

SENIORS...

The Class of 1951

FOUR OF THE MOST EVENTFUL YEARS OF OUR TIME AND CERTAINLY OF OUR LIVES ADDED THEIR EVENTS TO THE PANORAMA OF HISTORY WHILE EDUCATION WENT FORWARD WITH THE CLASS OF '51 HERE AT CAROLINA. WE HAD SEEN THE WAR-WEARY WORLD STRUGGLE TO ITS FEET AGAIN WITH THE ESTABLISHMENT OF THE ECONOMIC COOPERATION ADMINISTRATION.

WHILE THE NATIONS OF THE WORLD WERE SEEKING TO REBUILD THEIR ECONOMY, WE HERE AT CHAPEL HILL WERE EXPANDING OUR FACILITIES FOR THE EDUCATION THAT WOULD STRENGTHEN OUR OWN CAPITALISTIC SOCIETY.

WE WATCHED THE MOUNTING TENSION IN THE WORLD, AS ITS INHABITANTS SPLIT THEMSELVES INTO TWO CAMPS. WE FELT THE ANXIETY OF OUR FELLOW STUDENTS AS WE NEARED JUNE AND THE DRAFT.

THE UNIVERSITY OF
NORTH CAROLINA

J. P. HARLAND
"GOD SAVE THE KING"

SPRING 1951

After attending Carolina for one day a person realizes that he must wait his turn to take part in the many modes of entertainment offered by the University. The girls above are in line to bark up the wrong tree.

TALKING OF PICTURES . . .

Music plays a large part in the activities of the U.N.C. student. Even Carolina's All-America boys, like "Huck" Holdash, grasp spare moments to pick up a new tune.

ENTERTAINMENT AT U. N. C. IS VARIED

The entertainment at the University of North Carolina is as heterogeneous as the students who attend it. Aside from the popular cultural pursuits of attending literary, scientific, and religious lectures, frequenting the Morehead Planetarium shows, and furthering student-faculty relationships with teas, open houses, et cetera, Tarheels express their youthful exuberance in numerous forms of self-styled amusement (pages 164 and 165).

Farsighted students save popcorn money in order to brighten up their room. Direction of window helps too.

Practical jokes in the dormitory reign twenty-four hours a day. Roommates sometimes come across such scenes as the one above.

Individual students soon learn where they can pick out their own type of entertainment. Individualism is advocated by UNC.

Spontaneous and planned parties form an integral part of UNC entertainment. Freshman (above) misinterpreted a "Bring Your Own" invitation to party.

The library at the University of North Carolina in three stories, has the most complete collection of books in the south. Situated at the south end of the luxuriant campus, it is often the background for summer outdoor study sessions.

The University

A campus aged with tradition, Carolina takes the infrequent snow flurries in the stride of its warm fellowship found everywhere. The scene is facing the Y-court from "down campus" near Davie Poplar.

A MODE OF EDUCATION BASED ON INSTITUTION, CONSTITUTION AND PROSPERITY FOR ALL THE PEOPLES

William Davie, while leaning against a convenient poplar tree in 1796, probably had no idea that in 1951 the tree would have around it the best university in south — just ask any Tar Heel. Ole Bill really picked out a swell place. As the number one student to attend the University of North Carolina, he missed out on the product of his interest and the struggles of the educators who followed him to make the University at Chapel Hill an infinite path into the future.

And still today the atmosphere of fellowship and serenity governs the institution of higher learning and the quiet little college town around which it is situated. Carolina, drawing students from places as varied as Podunk, North Carolina to Cairo, Egypt, offers them all equal advantages of its accumulation of traditional culture and modern educational techniques.

The houses in "big" fraternity court were constructed in late Colonial style architecture to comply with the building plan of Chapel Hill. The Pi Kappa Alpha house (above) is bordered by the Sigma Chi and the Sigma Nu houses.

North Carolina

Now standing on the former Women's Athletic field are modern men's dormitories. They were completed and occu-piated in the fall of 1948. Two of the new structures of the building program, A and B dormitories, are shown above.

Over 2,000 of the student body gathered at South Building steps to witness the first formal recognition of United Nations Day on campus.

Two United Nations flags were presented to the University to commemorate the birth of the founding of the United Nations on August 21, 1944.

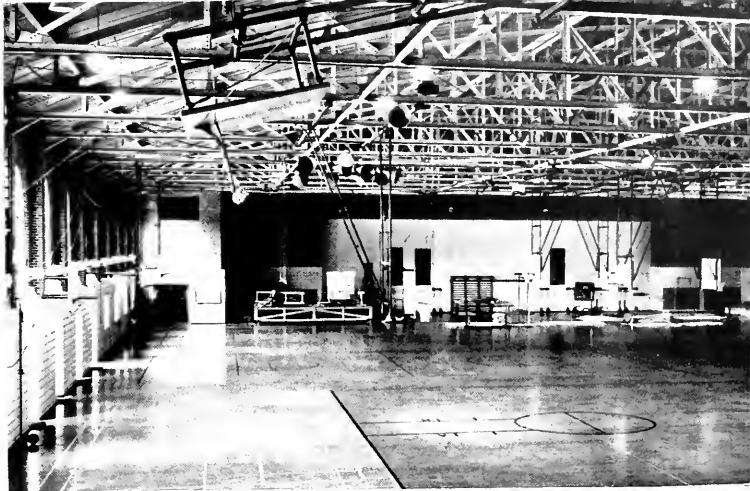

Three divisions, like one above, compose Lenon Hall - campus feeding grounds. Capacity of 1,300 seats; 10,000 meals can be served a day.

The physical plant of the University is valued at approximately $20,000,000. In the past thirty years there have been three notable periods of expansion. The first occurred in the 1920's, the second in the late 1930's and early 1940's, and the third during World War II, when the University expanded its facilities to accommodate Navy and Army training programs on the campus. The 1947 legislature projected a fourth period of building activity when it made appropriations of $7,344,300 for permanent improvements with which to expand the two-year Medical School at Chapel Hill to a four-year school with teaching hospital, build three new dormitories, greatly increase the capacity of the library, and expand the University's utilities and service plants.

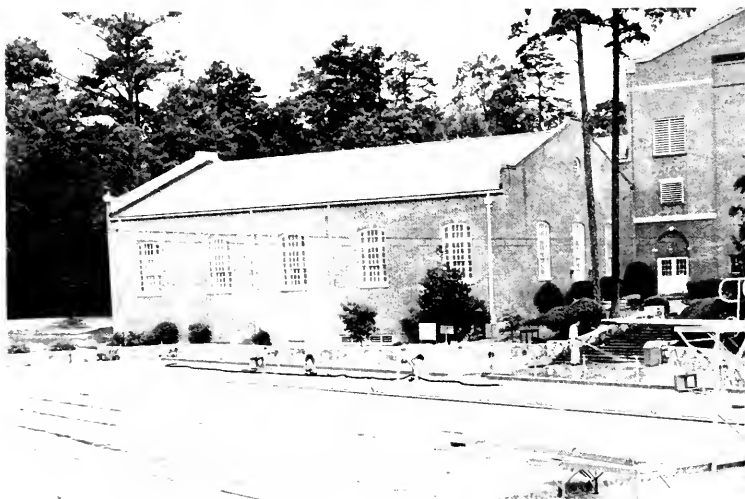

The University has already embarked upon a new era of service to the State. With a bright past and the opportunities for an even more brilliant future, the University of North Carolina looks ahead with confidence and challenge.

Dumbarton Oaks. Fourteen foreign exchange students are in the foreground.

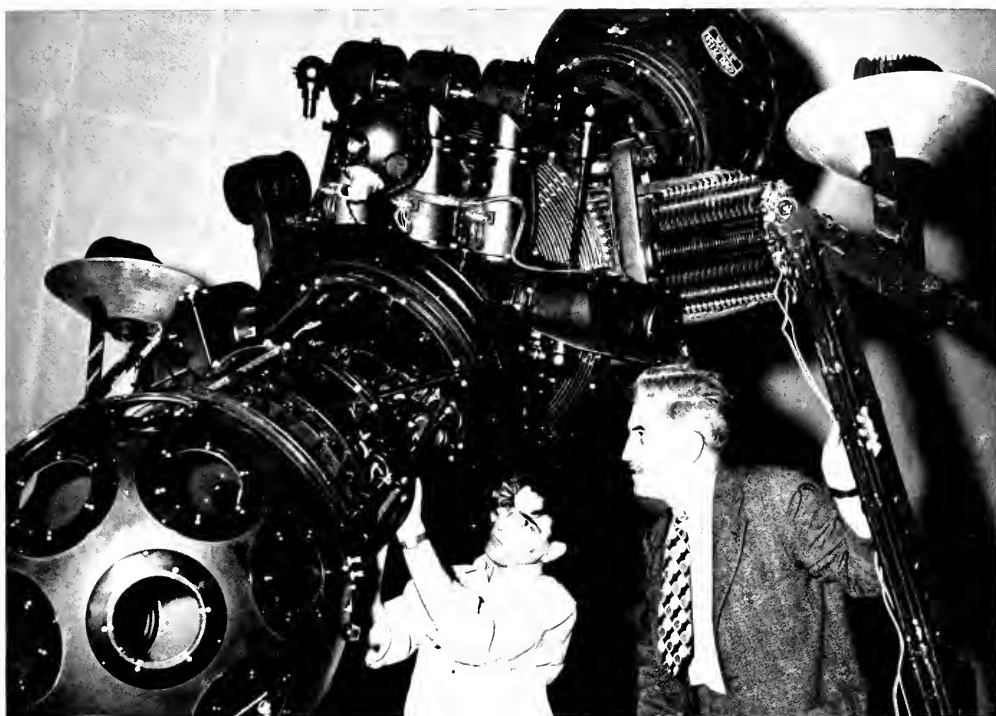

A portion of the 250 by 150 feet Woollen Gym floor (above) may be converted into an indoor track or eight complete basketball courts. Note adjustable backboard at top left.

The Women's Gym, adjoining the main gym (right), blocks the view of the 150 by 49 feet outdoor pool from the highway. Both townspeople and students have enjoyed the pool through the summer months since its completion in August 1943.

Also constructed in late Colonial style architecture are the women's dormitories (Alderman right). They form a quadrangle which adorns the eastern edge of the Coker Arboretum.

The "planetarium," as the actual instrument is called, continually receives its expert maintenance from Tony Jenzano (left). Director Roy K. Marshall delivers the expert commentary with each show.

HOW TO SEE THE STARS THE SUN AND MOON OR MARS

Want stars in your daydreams? Research scientists at the University of North Carolina have recently developed and perfected a process by which all the wonders of the celestial bodies can be viewed even on the brightest days. Where else for thirty-eight cents can one learn the position of the North Star? Yep, the boys who run that place can really use their dome.

Opening its doors in 1950, the Planetarium has to date presented over one thousand shows. Being the only planetarium in the world on a college campus, it attracts innumerable tourists from out of state and the city and rural schools of North Carolina.

The instrument itself was brought to the United States from Jena, Switzerland at a cost of $75,000 and is now valued at $200,000. Receipts from ticket sales for shows are used in conjunction with a trust fund for the operation of the entire building.

$3,000,000 poorer, John Motley Morehead pauses in front of his novel gift to the University.

In a pose familiar to thousands of U.N.C. alumni, Dr. Harland renders his daily discourse ranging from the tomb of King Tut to the shaft graves of Mycenae.

THE FIRST DYNASTY OF ARCHEOLOGY

If you ever see a man who is Phi Beta Kappa, A.B., M.A., and Ph.D. from Princeton; who has studied at Bonn University in Germany, and still has more friends than Gray has cigarettes, it's "ole" J. Penrose Harland. He would rather wear his track monogram which was awarded him for the 100-yard and 220 than his Phi Beta key.

J. P. entered the navy in 1917 at the end of his formal academic career. Out of the Navy in '19, he worked with advertising in New York for a year. Then it was off to Greece for thirteen months during '20-'21. There he worked at the excavations of Korinth and Mycenae under scholarship as a Fellow of the Archeological Institute. Then he went to the University of Cincinnati from '23-'26 to teach in the Department of Classics. The call of the East and a fifteen months Guggenheim Fellowship took him back to Greece and Egypt. There he directed diggings at Nemea, to disclose a civilization dating from 4,000 to 1,100 B.C. 1929 and time to settle down, so to the University of North Carolina and a professorship of archaeology in the Department of Classics.

A busy life for a man who always has time to talk to you—about anything. But he's still on top with the students, even after going in the hole most of his life.

Ensign Harland, as he appeared in 1918 while in the United States Navy.

On a Thursday, a month before the dances, Cindy scouts for her Mid-Winters date. Unorientated freshmen seem surprised at this familiar scene.

Five minutes before date arrives on the night of the dance, David, while picking out necktie, is attracted by odor of hair oil.

Unable to forget the delectable odor of the hair oil, David takes a few minutes from his shower to make a quick lavatory test.

Unsatisfied with the original results of the lavatory test, David continues examination of hair oil en route to dance. In order to have temperature conditions at a constant level, Cindy adjusts the Arm-strong heater of her coupe.

Still en route, Cindy and David stop for short beer. Understanding friends leave two by themselves so their amorous glances will not be interrupted.

Cindy introduces David to Ray Anthony, popular orchestra leader, who brought his fellows to play for the dances. David confuses Ray with lavatory assistant, asks him to verify results of experiment.

Cindy prepares a mild stimulant for exhausted David, who is resting from concentrated effort on experiment. Enterprising Cindy later collects gas money by stimulating others with left overs.

Yack Goes to a Terpsichorean

BIG WEEK-END, BIG NAME BAND, BIG TWO DAY DATE, BIG PARTY, BIG HEAD

The high spot of the normally dull winter quarter at the University of North Carolina is the Mid-Winter Dances, sponsored by the German Club. This is the time when coeds are forgotten and imports crowd the campus. During Mid-Winters, Carolina gentlemen can show their friends from home the greatness and the magnificence of the University, while indulging in mild social activity. The Yack cameraman has recorded on these pages for prosperity the highspots of this week-end of a typical Carolina couple, Cindy Gibson and David Schermerhorn.

During intermission, David forgets science to discuss aesthetics with Cindy. Both are good students and are prone to discuss such matters.

Cindy returns completely exhausted date to fraternity house, David discovered roommate had placed anti-freeze in bottle on dresser. End.

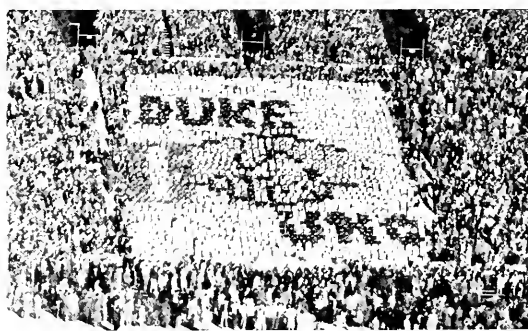

Prior to game time, groundkeeps roll back protective canvas from playing field. Eager spectators rush to the 14,000 seats. The other 33,980 spectators are still in the woods. An attendant (center) is going to the field house to wake up the players for the game.

Yack Goes to

Bareheaded students brave abnormal 14° weather to present their famous stunts—cards, that is.

Fans arriving in Chapel Hill for first time grope way through Kenan Woods; are finally attracted to stadium by Old Crows circling overhead.

Flashy music by unpredictable Dook band enlightens fans even more than crowds' spirits.

Due to the excellent parking facilities in Chapel Hill, motorists find adequate space not only on South Building steps, but also in Emerson Stadium baseball field. After game traffic jams are alleviated by exit through gate (center right). Men's dorms and Monogram Club appear in background.

a Football Game

Tension, Refreshments, Make For High Spirits

There is a football game every year between U.N.C. and Duke University. People who are for Carolina sit on the south side of Kenan Stadium and yell like hell for Carolina. People who are for Duke sit on the north side in the sun and yell obscenities at Carolina. The side who can yell the loudest has the best cheering section. People watch the game between yelling and taking short snorters. After the referee blows the whistle, spectators pick up their blankets, bury the dead soldiers under the seats, and go their partying ways.

Allman and Head Cheerleader Chambliss reluctantly turn over traditional Victory Bell to Dook.

Glimpse of Dook coed and realization of the final score (7-0) proves too much for the ardent U.N.C. sophomore.

"Apache cowboy," unaccustomed to fast hoedown, has difficult time trying to brand a wild filly.

Date is trying to cheer up partner who is feeling low. She thanks him for asking her down to party.

"One of the girls," bored sober, tries to make contact with man at next table while unsuspecting date flounders helplessly on her shoulder.

the boys next door (the Phi Delta Theta) were having their Bowery Ball the same night of the "Apache Party." Some costumes were identical, which enabled boys (and their dates) to migrate from one party to the other. In most cases the costume styles were irrelevant; the crowd followed the girls.

Proprietors of the "house" help the guests find their right places.

Yack Gung to a Pabty

VIVÉ LE SOIRÉE

There is nothing like a Carolina party and any gathering of Tar Heels usually turns out to be a party. For this issue, the Yack photographer covers the Parisian Ball given by the Chi Phi fraternity in their house somewhere in Chapel Hill. Spring and parties go hand in hand on college campuses. At Carolina, any season and parties go hand in hand, except that in Chapel Hill the spring steps business up more than somewhat.

Couple having decided to "sit one out" take an opportunity to discuss some important points of interest which they came up against while dancing.

Dates who are unaccustomed to attending rowdy parties manage somehow to put up a good front until it is over, with the constant encouragement of escorts.

Orchestra arrives at 2:00 A. M. to help party last 'til 5 o'clock when girls have to leave fraternity house; couple (below) make sweet music together.

School of Social Work

ARTHUR E. FINK
Dean of the School

On September 1, 1950 the School of Social Work succeeded the Division of Public Welfare and Social Work of the Graduate School. This change to a graduate professional school was a natural culmination of the many years of labor reaching back to 1920. Originally developed by Howard W. Odum in the School of Public Welfare, it expanded as an integral part of the School of Public Administration. Later it became the Division of Public Welfare and Social Work in the Graduate School.

It was in this School that the early emphasis was upon training workers for the public social services, especially public welfare in rural areas. Since the 1920's, hundreds of workers have been trained who are now occupying useful positions in North Carolina's County welfare departments, State Welfare Department, regional and federal offices of the Social Security Administration, as well as in teaching and administrative positions in national and international welfare services.

The training program, which leads to the Master's Degree in Social Work, combines classroom courses and field instruction in social welfare agencies, such as county welfare departments, Red Cross, Family service, Child guidance clinics, State mental hospitals, children's institutions, and adoption agencies. It is into these services that its graduates go. Within the past several years it has participated in the training program for psychiatric social workers, stimulated by the United States Public Health Service and State Mental Health authorities.

The School is a member of the American Association of Schools of Social Work. Its dean is Arthur E. Fink, a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania School of Social Work.

Pharmacy Senate

The Pharmacy Senate was founded at the University of North Carolina in February, 1940, through the efforts of Dr. Edward A. Brecht, professor of Materia Medica. Membership is limited to the student body of the School of Pharmacy.

The purpose of the Senate is the stimulation of an increased knowledge of the profession by free discussion of its various phases, and to promote inter-class friendship and cooperation within the School of Pharmacy.

In addition to the regular meetings, held every other Tuesday night, prominent speakers are engaged to present programs to the Pharmacy student body.

School of Pharmacy

A new year arrived, and with it a new class of freshmen. Orientation, registration, acclimation—all these things were experienced by the incoming freshmen.

During the fall quarter, there were lectures, labs, and examinations, but there were other things besides work. The North Carolina Pharmaceutical Association Student Branch solicited new members and presented entertaining programs. There was a freshman picnic, the Pharmacy Girls' Christmas party, the Senate meetings, and fraternity rushing.

The year passed quickly. There was the annual Pharmacy week-end with its dance and picnic, the Lilly trip to Indianapolis for juniors and seniors, and then finals. The year was gone, but all was not over. There was the night when awards were given to outstanding students, parties honoring the seniors, and graduation. It was good-bye for some, but they retained four years of memories and a good education which would help them in their chosen profession of pharmacy.

Pharmacy Dedication

PROFESSOR I. W. ROSE

After a lifetime of service to pharmacy, Professor Ira Winfield Rose is retiring from teaching. Professor Rose graduated from the School of Pharmacy of the University of North Carolina in 1906. Upon graduation, he entered the retail field of pharmacy and always strived to further its professional development. In 1931, Professor Rose was called to the University to help in educating the future pharmacists of America, and he responded, as always, to this call to duty from his alma mater. Since that time he has been the Professor of Practical Pharmacy. He is more than a teacher; he is a friend. He has always been eager to assist the students whenever they need help, either professionally or personally, and, in so doing, he has created an example of a pharmacist that we are all eager to follow.

Professor Rose has served North Carolina in every capacity. Not only has he been a teacher and served twice as Acting Dean of the School of Pharmacy, but he has been President and Acting Secretary-Treasurer of the North Carolina Pharmaceutical Association, Editor of the Carolina Journal of Pharmacy, and a member of the State Board of Pharmacy for many years.

Now, he is going to get a well deserved rest, although we can't imagine our Professor Rose idle and really don't expect him to be so. We are glad to see him get his chance to relax, but we are sorry to lose such a good teacher. We shall continue to cherish his friendship, and so, with warmest regards and sincerest gratitude, we dedicate this pharmacy section to Professor Rose.

School of Dentistry

J. C. BRAUER
Dean of the School

The University of North Carolina officially opened its doors to dental education on September 18, 1950, by admitting forty students to the first class. There can never be another "first class" in the history of this University or State. These thirty-nine young men and one young lady, who four years hence will be the first to be graduated from the University of North Carolina School of Dentistry, have been charged with a great responsibility in the establishment of high standards of ethics and practice.

The creation of a School of Dentistry, now an integral unit of the Division of Health Affairs, was made possible by an Act of the State Legislature in 1949. Dentistry, using the facilities of the School of Medicine for basic science instruction, also has quarters in two quonset huts and in Miller Hall. The new clinical building for the School of Dentistry will be completed during 1952, and it will occupy an area just south of the Schools of Medicine and Public Health.

In addition to the undergraduate program leading to the degree of Doctor of Dental Surgery, the new building will provide facilities for graduate and postgraduate instruction as well as for the training of Dental Hygienists.

The new modern building for the School of Dentistry, to be attached to the south end of the Medical-Public Health Building, is designed for undergraduate and postgraduate instruction and for the training of Dental Hygienists. There will be one large infirmary with fifty-five chairs and units, a separate children's clinic, and a prosthetic infirmary. Modern facilities, also, are provided for examinations, and for oral surgery and orthodontic treatments. The building is to be completed early in 1952, and plans are to activate the clinic during the summer of 1952.

School of Law . . . 1951

HENRY BRANDIS, JR.
Dean of the School

With a slight decrease in enrollment, the School of Law opened its one hundred and fifty-sixth session in September. Directed by Henry Brandis, Jr., in his second year as Dean, the school entered what is perhaps one of its greatest periods of service and growth. The new addition to Manning Hall was not completed for opening date, as originally planned, but the new building, providing much needed library and classroom facilities, is expected to be ready for use in 1951.

The Law School Association, an organization consisting of all law students, performs through its officers and class representatives a vital function in the work of the Law School, emphasizing the development of an extracurricular program of legal education closely integrated with the academic program of the School.

After conducting the orientation of entering students, the Law School Association continues its work with the organization and supervision of law club arguments, an activity in which all students participate. This activity, together with the sponsoring of a speakers' program which presents a number of the outstanding members of the legal profession, serves to enrich the education of all law students.

In addition to sponsoring several social events each year, including a reception for Alumni, the Association attempts to help the graduating students through the services of a placement committee.

Under the direct supervision of the students and with faculty guidance, the North Carolina Law Review, in its twenty-ninth year of publication, is issued quarterly during the academic year to lawyers and law schools throughout the nation. Editors and members of the staff are chosen from the upper classes on the basis of scholastic attainment.

Manning Hall, the present home of the School of Law, was erected in 1923 and was named for John Manning, a distinguished professor in the School from 1881 until 1899. The addition to Manning Hall, now nearing completion, will approximately double the size of the building, and will provide library, classroom, student work room, and office facilities which should prove adequate for present and foreseeable future needs. The auditorium included in the new addition will solve a long standing problem by enabling the Law School to integrate more satisfactorily both its academic and extracurricular programs.

As one of the ten accredited schools of public health in the nation, the University's School of Public Health has contributed greatly to the professional resources of North Carolina, the nation, and the world for over a decade. Its student body, made up primarily of North Carolinians, has substantial representation from the Southeast region, a national sampling, and enough of a sprinkling of students from outside the United States to give it a cosmopolitan flavor. Courses of study are directed principally toward preparation of persons in the professional specialties of Public Health Administration, health education, public health nursing, parasitology, sanitary engineering, and sanitary science. From these specialties, the balanced coordinated team required to give the people effective public health services is formed. It is in Chapel Hill that the team's components come to know and to practice their inter-related responsibilities and duties. This knowledge and its practice rest upon a broad and sound comprehension of the natural sciences, and an appreciation of the social factors influencing the community.

Through its Student Organization, physicians, nurses, parasitologists, educators, sanitarians, and engineers make opportunities for social gatherings and participation in campus life. The major functions have been a picnic, with friendly informality the keynote, early in the fall term, and a dinner and dance during the winter term with students, faculty, and their families participating. Smaller groups made up from each of the specialities develop their own further activities both for social interests and for professional purposes. As most of the student body complete their graduate studies within a single year, the days and hours are crowded with an endless pressure of activities. Fortunately, strong ties to the spirit and tradition of the University are formed within the short year, and they endure and strengthen with time.

The School of Medicine was established in 1879 under the direction of Dr. Thomas W. Harris. A course in theoretical and practical medicine was offered under the preceptorial system, but the plan was found impractical and abandoned in 1886. In 1890, a more orderly and logical arrangement of the subjects in the medical course having developed, it became possible for an institution without clinical facilities to offer instruction in the pre-clinical subjects, and the school was reopened with Dr. Richard H. Whitehead as Dean and Professor of Anatomy. Under his guidance it soon won recognition for thoroughness of instruction and excellence in scholarship and has since continued without interruption to its growth. At first the course covered only one year, but in 1896, the medical course having been extended in the better class of schools to four years, a two-year course was inaugurated. In 1900 the School of Medicine was incorporated as an integral part of the University and was reorganized to meet the requirements of the first two years of the full four-year course leading to the degree of Doctor of Medicine. In 1902 it was expanded into a four-year school, and the clinical subjects of the third and fourth years were offered in Raleigh under the direction of Dr. Hubert A. Royster as Dean. After a few years of successful operation, the plan had to be abandoned for lack of financial support, and the clinical years were abandoned.

The School has been a member of the Association of American Medical Colleges since 1908 and is on the approved list of schools of basic medical sciences as published by the Council on Medical Education and Hospitals of the American Medical Association.

The curriculum is similar to that in the first two years of the better four-year medical schools in the country. It covers all the pre-clinical or laboratory subjects of the four-year course in medicine, as well as introductory clinical courses in the last two quarters of the second year. These courses in medicine, physical diagnosis, clinical pathology, surgery, and obstetrics serve to lessen the abruptness of the change from the laboratory situation to the clinical.

The School has an arrangement with Watts Hospital in Durham whereby the ward and dispensary patients are available for teaching purposes in the clinical courses. The clinical material at the State Hospital in Raleigh, the State Tubercular Sanatorium at Sanatorium, and the patients in the Tri-County Health Clinic are available for teaching purposes.

Students who have successfully completed the two-year course in this school are given full credit for all of their work and are transferred into the third year of American medical colleges of the highest rank, from which they receive the degree of Doctor of Medicine. Approximately twenty-five percent of the physicians now in active practice in North Carolina received the first two years of their medical training here.

The Whitehead Society is the time-honored organization of the Medical School. It was created in 1908 primarily through the idea of Dr. Erasmus H. Kloman, then a second year medical student, and named in honor of Dr. R. H. Whitehead, the first Dean of the School. All medical students are members of the society. The officers are the four members with highest academic standing at the completion of the first year's work. The student medical society sponsors programs by eminent men in the profession as well as student participation programs complementary to those of local and state medical societies. Under the direction of the Whitehead Society Social Committee, various events are provided throughout the year. The orientation program and Whitehead dinner in the fall, the annual dance of the winter quarter, and the student-faculty day in the spring highlight these events.

Graduate School

Following the Civil War and during a part of the distressing period of Reconstruction, the doors of the University were closed. With the re-opening of the institution in 1875, the authorities proceeded almost immediately to establish graduate study as a recognized University enterprise.

During the administration of President Venable (1900-1914), the Graduate School was organized in 1903 and the Deanship of the graduate department was created. The first dean, Professor Charles Alphonso Smith, who was appointed in 1903, headed a committee of five members on graduate study. The President and the committee were concerned with the formulation and effective administration of high standards. Courses separate and distinct from those carrying undergraduate credit were organized and offered.

President Edward Kidder Graham, who was installed in office in 1894, enlarged and strengthened the faculty. He brought to the University many persons then and later active in scholarly production.

A Committee on the Graduate School, composed of five members, was appointed to consider plans and principles of reorganization. Under the forceful leadership of Dean Greenlaw, the committee reviewed the Graduate School as to its structure, requirements, accomplishments, and aims. In 1920, the committee of five was expanded into an Administrative Board of eight members, nominated by the Dean and appointed by the President. In addition to being an administrative body, the Board in effect became an executive council and, in a limited sense, a legislative council. As now organized, it is composed of twelve members, with the Dean as Chairman; four of the members represent the Division of the Humanities, four the Division of Philosophy, and four the Division of Mathematics and Science.

As recommended by the Administrative Board, a Graduate Faculty was organized in 1920. The degrees offered under the supervision of the faculty are Master of Arts, Master of Science, and Doctor of Philosophy. In addition there are professional graduate degrees in education, public health, regional planning, and social work.

As a key member of the United Nations, this country has unreservedly committed its efforts and resources to the establishment and maintenance of an orderly and peaceful world. It is the purpose of the Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps to select and train students who possess the character, intelligence, desire, and sense of duty to become Air Force Officers and responsible citizens. The objectives of this phase of student training are to attract the highest type of personnel into the Air Force and its civilian components, to develop in all students an understanding of modern warfare and the place and function of air power in the defense of the United States, to qualify students to perform duties normally expected of a junior Air Force Officer.

RIFLE TEAM

This year over one hundred twenty-five colleges and Universities, of which the University of North Carolina is one, have Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps of four year duration leading to a commission as second lieutenant, United States Air Force Reserve. Organized in 1947, the Air Force R.O.T.C. at Carolina is a regular department of instruction in the University, and has graduated eighty-seven officers since its activation. Cadets are trained in one of two specialties, Statistical Control and Public Information, and the department has the only Public Information curriculum in the entire Air Force R.O.T.C.

SQUADRON C

The Reserve Officers Training Corps has two missions. The first is to produce junior officers who have the qualities and attributes essential to their progressive and continued development as officers of the Army of the United States. The second is to lay the foundations of intelligent citizenship within the student and to give him such basic military training as will be of benefit to himself and to the military service if he becomes a member thereof.

Completion of the four-year course of instruction qualifies the student for appointment as a Second Lieutenant in the Army of the United States or in the Air Force. If the entire course is not completed, and at a later date the student should become a member of the Military Service, that training completed would prove of material benefit.

SQUADRON D

The National Society of Scabbard and Blade

Scabbard and Blade is a national military honor society with local chapters, called companies, located in nearly a hundred leading colleges and universities which have Reserve Officer Training Programs. The organization at Carolina is Company I of the Eighth Regiment. Membership is by election only and active members are chosen from outstanding midshipmen and cadet officers of the advanced course of the Navy and Air Force Programs.

This year I Company sponsored the colorful Military Ball at the Naval Armory on March 3 at which time the newly selected members from the Junior Class were announced and the new Queen of Scabbard and Blade was crowned by Miss Mary Scott Everett, last year's selection and the first of the Queens.

This year's officers were: Captain, Buck Buchanan; First Lieutenant, Hamp Davis; Second Lieutenant, Chuck Northend; First Sergeant, Wilson Yarborough.

FIRST COMPANY

The objectives of the Naval Reserve Officers Training Corps are twofold: To provide a steady supply of well educated Junior Officers to serve on active duty in the Line or Staff of the Navy or Marine Corps; and to build up a reserve of officers subject to call in the event of a national emergency.

There are fifty-two NROTC units at various colleges and universities throughout the country. From these units, and from the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis, come the major portion of the officers for the Navy and Marine Corps.

SECOND COMPANY

A student may enter the NROTC program under either of two plans, Regular or Contract. As a regular he is appointed a Mid-shipman upon enrolling in the program, and receives tuition, books, uniforms, and six hundred dollars per year throughout his four years of college.

To successfully complete this program he is required to take eight Naval Science courses. Otherwise, he majors in the academic field of his choice. During the four-year period, the student is required to take three summer training cruises.

The University of North Carolina Monogram Club was formed many years ago with the promotion of friendship among monogram winners its initial purpose. Since its origination the group has grown and extended its activities in many fields. It has inaugurated what we now know as an annual affair, the spring Blue-White intra-squad football game. It has had as its guests at several home football games orphans from throughout the state. The club has contributed to the annual fund raising campaigns to aid in the cure of polio. In short, it has performed many worthwhile services to the University and to the Community.

Officers for the year were: President, Joe Augustine; Vice-President, Bill White; Secretary-Treasurer, Frank Hooper; Social Chairman, Henry Moore; Athletic Council Representative, Skeet Hesmer.

FOOTBALL

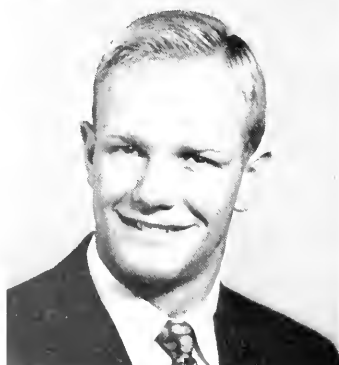

The year 1950 wasn't a good one, as far as Carolina's football fortunes go. The Tar Heels won three games, tied two, and lost five. We lost close games to Notre Dame, Wake Forest, and Duke. We tied Maryland and Georgia. Virginia trounced us soundly. Bowl bound Tennessee beat us, but not badly. We were hot against William and Mary and put on a good show. We skimmed by State and South Carolina. We sorely missed the All-Americans of former years. But we also produced an All-American—Mr. Huck Holdash, one of the best defensive centers in the Nation. Bunting, Hayes, Wallace, and Gantt were backfield stars, White, Ruffin, Dudeck, Norris, and Hansen in the line. We looked forward to next year.

N. C. STATE 7 — CAROLINA 13

Playing without All-Americans Justice, Weiner and Powell for the first time in four years, the Tar Heel gridders opened the 1950 campaign by withstanding State's pass-happy Wolfpack, 13-7, before 42,000 Greater University Day fans in Kenan Stadium. Two great goal line stands by the Tar Heels preserved victory as the Wolfpack, led by the passing of Tailback Ed Mooney, poured it on the Tar Heels. A Mooney to Alex Webster pass scored for the Wolfpack. Carolina scores came on a 76-yard run by Bunting and a four-yard plunge by Wallace.

NOTRE DAME 14 — CAROLINA 7

It was a great trip to South Bend for that handful of students who made the trip. A fighting Carolina team, meeting the Fighting Irish in their season opener, staggered the sports world as it appeared they might hold mighty Notre Dame to a 7-7 tie. Bud Wallace scored in the third period after brilliant play by Bunting, Hayes, C. C. White, and Jack Cooke to tie the game. But a Williams to Mutscheller pass in the last three minutes messed things up for Carolina. Huck Holdash did well enough to get the AP's Lineman of the Week award. The Tar Heels lost the game, but gained national prestige in this early season game. It wasn't until later in the season that both teams sagged in the middle.

GEORGIA 0 — CAROLINA 0

An off and on Tar Heel eleven, obviously letdown from the Notre Dame game, was held to a 0-0 tie by Georgia's fired-up Bulldogs in Sanford Stadium at Athens. After intermission had stopped one Georgia thrust on the Carolina seven yard line and the Tar Heel line had halted another Bulldog drive on the 13, the visitors staged some offensive antics of their own. Late in the game Tailback Bud Carson got off on a nice punt return to the Georgia 37. From there the Snavelymen punched to the Bulldog six, only to have the drive fizzle out when Abie Williams missed a difficult-angle field goal with less than two minutes remaining in the game. Captain Huck Holdash, Andy Miketa, Joe Dudeck, and Tom Higgins led the rugged line play of the Tar Heels, Billy Hayes and Carson were outstanding in the UNC backfield. Hayes was the workhorse for the Tar Heels, with his pin-point passing constantly getting the Blue and White out of danger. Halfback Billy Mixon, a slashing, tricky runner, and linemen Dexter Poss and Mike Merola shone for the Bulldogs as Coach Wally Butts' gridmen ended a three-year Carolina win streak over Georgia.

WAKE FOREST 13—CAROLINA 7

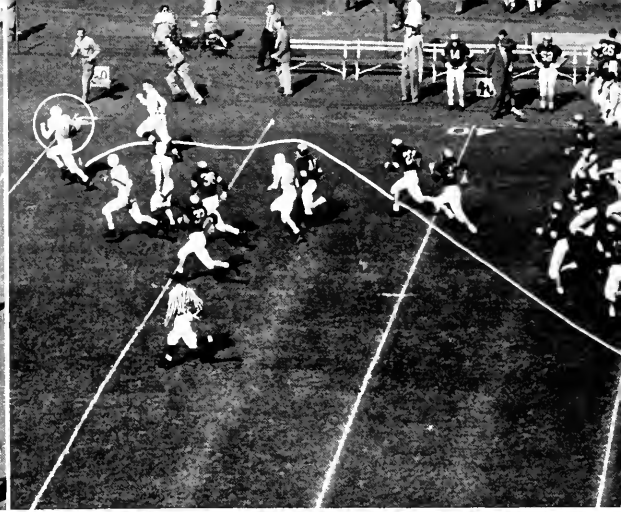

A last minute, 41-yard pass from Halfback Dickie Davis to End Ed Butler gave Wake Forest's power-laden Deacons a 13-7 victory over a Carolina eleven that lacked a scoring punch in a bitterly contested Southern Conference battle before 43,500 breathless spectators in Kenan Stadium. The defeat was the first suffered by Carolina within the Southern Conference since 1947 when the Deacs upset the Tar Heels in Chapel Hill. A 51-yard pass play from Hayes to Wallace early in the first period netted the Tar Heels their only TD of the game. Fred Sherman converted and Carolina led, 7-0. But Wake Forest came back in the third quarter when Terry Gwynn returned a Carolina punt to the Tar Heel 27 and three plays later Ed Kissell bucked over the middle on a quarterback sneak into paydirt. Kissell split the uprights, and it was 7-all. The Tar Heels tried again, reached the Deacon one, but ran out of gas. Then Davis and Butler went into their act and Tar Heel fans went home with long faces.

End Tom Higgins charges in and snares a Wake Forest back before he reaches the line of scrimmage early in the second quarter.

Hayes passes to Rizzo, good for 30 yards and a Carolina TD. On the play Hayes suffered a fractured jaw.

Dick Weiss (79) is pictured as he took the opening kickoff and scampered 80 yards for a Carolina score.

WILLIAM AND MARY 7 — CAROLINA 40

Held in check in its first four games by rugged opponents, Carolina's offense exploded for a razzle-dazzle, 40-7 win over William and Mary before 32,000 satisfied Homecoming fans in Kenan Stadium. Tar Heel touchdowns, some of them on spectacular plays, were scored by Rizzo (on a pass from Hayes), Gantt (on a 100-yard pass interception return), Bunting (on an 80-yard run), Hesmer, and Benny Walser (on a 70-yard run). Vito Ragazzo scored on a pass from Dickie Lewis for the Indians. This particular Saturday was the brightest of an otherwise sad season.

TENNESSEE 16 — CAROLINA 0

Tennessee's bowl-bound Volunteers ground out a 16-0 victory over revenge-minded, but outclassed Carolina before 38,000 partisan fans at Shields-Watkins Field in Knoxville. The closest the Blue and White ever got to the Tennessee goal line was 25-yards out. Defensively, the Tar Heels played admirably, but the offensive unit couldn't buck that powerful Vol line. Herby Payne scored twice for the Vols, both scores being the end result of Carolina fumbles. Weiss was caught behind his own goal line to give Tennessee its final two points.

MARYLAND 7 — CAROLINA 7

Playing one of their best games of the year, the Tar Heels took advantage of a rain-drenched field to battle Maryland's then nationally ranked Terps to a 7-7 deadlock in Chapel Hill. It was a day of the A-formation for the Tar Heels, climaxed by a game-tying 80-yard Tar Heel march. Wallace scored the Carolina TD on a plunge from the one, to give the Carolinians their second tie game of the year. Bob Shemonski scored for the Terps, who were held in check most of the afternoon by a good Carolina line. Hayes' passing and Gantt's running were highlights in the eyes of Carolina fans.

SOUTH CAROLINA 7 — CAROLINA 14

Carolina's powerful ground attack clicked to bring the Tar Heels a 14-7 victory over its highly-regarded South Carolina rival in a well-played Southern Conference clash before 25,000 fans in Columbia. South Carolina scored first, on a 66-yard run by Blackie Kincard, but the Tar Heels came back. Bunting passed to Walser from the A-formation, and the game was even-steven. Wallace scored the winning touchdown after a 65-yard drive in the second period. Holdash, Norris, Port, Dudeck all played like professionals, not to mention Gantt, Bunting, and Wallace.

DUKE 7 — CAROLINA 0

After four long and bitter years of defeat, Duke's determined Blue Devils gave retiring Coach Wallace Wade something to remember his last season by as they edged the Tar Heels, 7-0, before almost 40,000 fans who braved 5-degree weather to witness the traditional clash in Kenan Stadium. The visitors from Durham got into Carolina territory only twice during the contest, but they took advantage of a partially blocked Tar Heel punt on one of these occasions to take possession of the ball on the Carolina 34 yard line. Tailback Billy Cox followed with a pass to Wingback Tommy Powers, who gathered in the ball as he crossed the goal line for the touchdown that beat the Tar Heels. It was a fruitless afternoon for the Tar Heels, who drove within striking distance of Hallowed ground time after time. Six times Carolina penetrated the Duke 25, and six times the Tar Heel attack sputtered and died, once as close as the four-yard line. End C. C. White was the offensive leader for Carolina, gaining a total of 85 yards on five end-around plays.

White carries on the end around for a 35-yard gain down to the Duke 25.

VIRGINIA 44 — CAROLINA 13

It was the end of the season and the Tar Heels appeared tired. So tired that six times Carolina players fumbled away chances to make it a ball game. It turned out that Virginia won in a walk-away, 44-13—a win that tasted mighty good to hungry Old Dominion citizens. Johnny Papit, the Virginia backfield ace had a field day, scored twice, and set up several more scores. Walser scored twice for Carolina and the season was over. We counted three wins, two ties, and five defeats—not a good year according won and lost standards.

CHEERLEADERS

When Head Cheerleader Norm Sper left Chapel Hill after doing such a fine job, more than a handful of students began to wonder just who was around who was capable enough to fill his shoes. Sper had done a great job and had added life and spirit to Carolina's cheering section. Well, the right guy came along. Joe Chambliss won the head cheerleader's job in the spring elections and ever since that day he's spent his time proving to everybody that he was more than capable of filling the bill. Chambliss and his gang of Blue and White clad cheerers did a commendable job of leading the campus in cheers, especially at football games, but also at other athletic functions. Chambliss added a new twist here, something there, and before the end of the football season Carolina fans were being heard all over the country. The crew made the trip to Tennessee and added life to the party. They didn't quite make it to Notre Dame, but we spotted a few down in Gawgia, up at Virginuh, and in other football capitals. Dodie Boyer, Susie Upchurch, Arden Boisseau, Carrie Chamberlain, Anne Birmingham, Jackie Merritt, Cecil Pless, Allman Beaman, Cyril Minett, and Bill Hogshead made up the squad. They did a great job. So, Carolina Cheerleaders, here's a hand!

The members of the Card Board do more work with less credit than any other organization on campus. Theirs is the tiresome job of preparing the card stunts at the home football games. And preparing those card stunts is quite a job. It takes many, many man hours of tedious work to get the card stunts in working order. Under the direction of Pat Faircloth and Bob Greene, the card stunts during halftime were very successful this year.

BASKETBALL

Coach Tom Scott

Co-Captain Hugo Kappler
Co-Captain Charlie Thorne

With prospects of having one of the best basketball teams since the NCAA finalists of 1946, Carolina saw early season injuries wreck the ethereal hopes of the 1950-51 Tar Heel cagers. Coach Scott opened the season with co-captains Hugo Kappler and Charlie Thorne ready for play. He had Dick Patterson, top substitute of last year, and a host of fast and eager sophomores in Bud Maddie, Jack Wallace, Vince Grimaldi, and veteran guard Howard Deasy as his first game starters.

The Tar Heels showed a scoring punch that brought them an 84-57 win over the McCrary Eagles. With alterations in his starting lineup, Scott sent his cagers through their first five games without defeat, but the Tar Heels gained injuries with their victories. While blasting Hanes Hosiery, 75-58, the Tar Heels lost Kappler, with a fractured wrist, and Maddie, with a separated shoulder. Shortly after, Wallace suffered a stone bruise on his ankle and then before the two-game trip to Eastern Kentucky, Deasy was lost because of a bronchial infection. With these men resting on the sidelines most of the time, Carolina bowed to Eastern Kentucky and Xavier of Cincinnati and then dropped games to Colgate, Duke and West Virginia in the Dixie Classic in Raleigh. The Tar Heels opened the winter term with a loss to Maryland and then headed North for games with New York University and Temple. Although they had most of their original starters in action, they were not able to cope with these big Northern powers. We were not at full strength, but it seemed, after leading Temple by 19 points at the half, we were ready to go again. Although he lost many of his men during the early part of the year, Coach Scott was fortunate in having reserves who could carry the load. Hal Ferraro, Red Wells, and Bill White all had experience from last year's squad and the return to eligibility of soph Gippy Carter at the start of the winter quarter gave the Tar Heels a boost at the center spot. Fighting for a place in the annual Southern Conference tournament, which was returned to Raleigh this year, the Tar Heels knocked off Wake Forest to the tune of 65-56, and then came back to nip Davidson, 56-53. We were temporarily set back, however, when a strong West Virginia team (newest addition to the Southern Conference), holding second place in the Conference standings, pulled away late in the game for a 62-49 win. The loss did not hold back the Carolina team. With the remaining games scheduled with Southern Conference teams, we were back in shape to hold our fourth place in the loop standings. The Carolina squad would have to fight to hang on to the spot, however. Two games remained with State, two with Duke and Wake Forest was looking for revenge at the door of Woollen Gym. The Tar Heels had a trip to the Palmetto State for games with South Carolina, upset winners over West Virginia, and the Citadel. It appeared the Carolina squad would grow stronger as the season rolled on—people were even predicting that 1951 would be the year that Carolina would trip nationally ranked N. C. State! The people were wrong, however. The Tar Heels journeyed to Raleigh and were defeated in the same manner as Everett Case's Hoosiers had been doing for the past five years.

Then the Tar Heels lost to South Carolina by one point, beat The Citadel and came back to Chapel Hill to defeat Duke and lose once more to State College. Wake Forest was easily disposed of before the Tar Heels closed out the regular season over in Durham against a basketball player named Dick Groat and four other fellas from Duke. Groat scored 29 points, set a new national scoring record, and the Devils defeated Carolina, 84-72. That left Carolina with a 9-8 Conference record and put them in ninth place in the Conference standings—on the outside looking in on the Tournament to be held a few weeks later. The Tar Heels weren't completely out, however. They had one last chance. If weak-kneed Virginia Military Institute could defeat eighth place Maryland, the Tar Heels could back into the Tournament. But it looked doubtful that the Terps would drop that last game. V.M.I. had won three out of 13 games all year. The season didn't turn out as most had expected. The Tar Heels had a pretty fair ball team, but like last year, they couldn't keep the old injury jinx away. The bulk of the load was left on the shoulders of Sophomores Bud Maddie, Jack Wallace, and Vince Grimaldi. Howard Deasy did very well, placing among the top twenty in the nation as far as capturing rebounds goes. Co-Captain Hugo Kappler played his usual fine aggressive style—when he wasn't laid up with injuries. But as far as the black and white figures on the won-lost records go, there wasn't much to say, except that nobody ever bribed us!

I can stare at you longer than you can at me! (Says Carolina's Patterson to State's Terrell.)

BASEBALL

After starting the season on a fairly even keel, then slumping through a period of mid-season doldrums, the 1950 Tar Heel baseball team came through in the home stretch to wind up the season with a .500 average and a 17-17 record. They barely missed finishing second in the Big Four standings. But the season was still something of a disappointment to coaches Bunn Hearn and Walter Rabb. With only three major positions left vacant through graduation from the 1949 outfit, and such standout material as First Baseman and Captain Willard Hobbs, Third Baseman John Senter, Outfielder Ed Lamb, and Pitchers Bill McGinn and Dean Cassell back for another campaign, it looked like the Tar Heels were destined for a good season. There were also a number of top performers up from the '49 freshman squad who seemed to be shaping up well in pre-season drills. Dick Wiess and

Charlie Gurganus, Catchers, Infielders Dan Whitehart, Skeet Hesmer and Joe Brookshire, and Pitchers Roger Paschal, and Henry Schacht, a left hander, were all being heavily depended on for first string work with the varsity. Just after the Tar Heels returned to Chapel Hill from their season-christening Florida trip they got another shot in the arm with the announcement by the Athletic Department that veteran Outfielder Jim Ballou would be eligible for the remainder of the year. But still the hard working Carolina nine seemed to lack something. After winning six of their first eight games, they went into a prolonged six-game losing streak and then managed to win only two of the next five encounters. But they came back to whip Duke three times straight but lost to State in the finale and as a consequence lost out for second place in the Big Four. In Southern Conference play the Tar Heels won ten and lost nine, and in Big Four competition they came out in the red, losing eight while wining only seven. Duke was the chief victim of the Carolina attack. The Blue Devils lost four of five games to the Tar Heels. But Coach Hearn's crew could take only one from the powerful State Wolfpack, and two out of five from Wake Forest's Demon Deacons, who wound up repeating as loop champions. The high spot of the season was without doubt Bill McGinn's masterful no-hit, no-run victory over Duke. The feat made Big Four history and went into the books as the first such accomplishment at Carolina since Vinnie DeLorenzo turned the trick in 1947. But DeLorenzo was tagged in extra innings and the game was never entered as an official no-hitter. McGinn missed pitching a perfect game only by the narrow margin of two bases on balls and a single infield error. The six-foot, 170-pounder will lead the Carolina mound staff again this year in his final campaign for the Tar Heels. He was the only Tar Heel pitcher to finish over the .500 mark with his 4-3 record. "Diz" Dean Cassell, a Phi Beta Kappa and in his last season for Carolina, pitched the greatest number of games. He completely mastered Big Four competition, beating each team in the league at least once to split 16 games while facing the best in the loop. In the hitting department, Captain Will Hobbs, another senior, led the team with a .288 average. As a team the Tar Heels only managed a weak .225 which may, along with the failure of the mound staff, go toward explaining the overall 17-17 record for the season. Among the standouts for the 1950 team were the two sophomores Gurganus and Weiss, who shared most of the work behind the plate; Outfielders Prospects for 1951 edition of the Tar Heels look better than average. Led by McGinn, Gurganus, Wiess and Senter, there will be a number of veterans returning for another campaign and a group of good sophomore prospects up from the freshman squad. If the Selective Service or enlistments spare the Tar Heels, Carolina should come up with a winning team next year.

SOCCER

The 1950 varsity soccer team enjoyed a fairly successful season under the direction of coach Marvin Allen. During the fall season the Tar Heels won five matches and lost four. The season opened with a 6-0 win over State. A 4-0 victory over RPI and a 2-1 win over Virginia followed before Duke came in and held the Tar Heels scoreless, 3-0. Then Penn State, last year's national champions, did the same thing. The Tar Heels retaliated with a 2-1 win over Duke, lost to W & L, beat State again, and lost to Maryland. Buck Blankenship captained the squad through the season and was one of Allen's most outstanding players.

CROSS COUNTRY

Sportswriters admire, perhaps more than any other athlete, the cross country runner, the fellow who almost daily runs himself to death over a rugged four mile course. Carolina's cross country men—Jerry Lewis, Otis Honeycutt, Frank Hooper, Gordon Hamrick, and the rest—finished the dual meet season with only three wins and four defeats. Some of the meets were almost too close to lose. The wins came over Davidson, in the opener, William and Mary and Virginia at the close of the season. In the Big Five meet at State the Tar Heels finished third, with 66 points. At the Conference meet in College Park, Carolina placed fourth with 90 points.

FIRST ROW: Meade, Haughton, Dorn, White, Duke, Williams, Ritch • SECOND ROW: Wood, Park, Goodin, Madison, Bell, Cooke, Harrison.

GYMNASTICS

Gymnastics is still a new sport at Carolina. The sport was started last year and has been developed largely through the efforts of Coach Bill Meade. The squad has performed at intermissions at basketball games and engaged in several dual meets. Gymnastics is a sport that exhibits strength, dexterity and control of the body muscles through the use of parallel bars, side horses, and other miscellaneous pieces of equipment. This year the squad has a regular dual meet schedule and will enter the Southern regional championship meet.

FENCING CLUB

The Fencing Club is in essence a minor varsity sport, meeting annually other colleges and universities in all three phases of fencing—foil, épée, and sabre.

Last year the Club had a very successful season against N. C. State College, Kentucky, Virginia, and V.M.I. The fencers are looking forward to even greater results this year.

1951 WRESTLING TEAM

WRESTLING

The 1950 dual meet wrestling season wasn't a good one for the Carolina wrestlers. In seven matches the Tar Heels won one, tied one, and lost five. But the end of the season saw the Tar Heels do well at the Conference Championships with Phil Kemp winning the title in the 155-pound division. Kemp and Oscar Gupton were the mainstays, with assistance from Bob McGimsey, Charlie Harless, Barry Farber, Chigger Qualls, and Tommy Cox.

The 1951 season outlook looked bright, with most everyone back but Gupton, who took over coaching the fresh, and Kemp and McGimsey, who went into the Armed Forces. Sam Barnes, late of V.M.I., replaced Chuck Quinlan as varsity coach before the season got under way.

With a few good prospects up from the freshman squad, we could safely predict a good season before the first dual meet was held.

SWIMMING

Swimming was one of the first sports to get under way in the year 1950. It opened with the Carolina sponsored Thanksgiving Day meet (held November, 1949, but is considered a part of the 1950 season). Tar Heels did well there, then opened a ten event dual meet season with a 43-32 win over Duke. Victories were posted over Virginia Tech, Navy, William and Mary, Virginia Military, Georgia Tech, and Miami. But the Tar Heels didn't finish the season with a perfect record. Twice they were defeated. National Champions Ohio State smothered the Carolinians, 62-13, and LaSalle, a swimmer's paradise, edged Carolina, 40-35.

Coach Dick Jamerson, Assistants Ralph Casey, Bob Ousley and Ed Draper, and Carolina students and faculty could well be proud of several of the Outstanding Tar Heel Swimmers. Meaning, of course, Jim Thomas, Norm Spear, and feminine star Sara Wakefield.

Thomas, elected captain of the 1951 team, set record after record of all shapes and sizes during the year. Too numerous to mention here, it can be said that he holds fourteen records of national character—five NCAA marks and nine American records.

Norm Spear won the AAU Platform Diving Title and Miss Wakefield, a lass loaded with talent and beauty, won the Women's one meter diving title at the AAU meet in Florida.

The team won the Conference title again, this time with 69 points. Cecil Milton, Thomas, and Sper won firsts in the event.

But there were many others on the Carolina team—and just as big a winning factor as the top stars. We're speaking of men like Jack Whichard, Kirby Ambler, Sam McCauley, Ray Edmundson, Darrell Byerly, and many others.

As the seniors leave, a star-studded freshman team moves up to compete during the 1951 season. Among them Stan Tinkham, Buddy Baarcke, Rick Levy, Buddy Heins, and Billy McCord.

So, as the 1951 Yackety Yack goes to the printer, the new Carolina swimming team goes after another in a lengthy list of Southern Conference swimming titles.

TRACK

The 1950 track season was inaugurated in Chapel Hill with the Fifteenth Annual Southern Conference Indoor Games at Woollen Gym. As in past years, the Tar Heels, paced by the sensational Bill Albans, won the meet handily, amassing more points than the rest of the scoring institutions combined could muster. At the Maryland Indoor meet in Washington the Tar Heels, sending only a few top runners, placed second behind the Terps.

The Outdoor season was climaxed here in Chapel Hill on Fetzer Field where Coaches Bob Fetzer, Dale Ranson, and Joe Hilton watched their proteges add another Southern Conference title to the long list of track championships won by Carolinians. Albans was again the star, winning three events and placing third in another.

The dual meet season was highly successful—six wins in as many meets. Duke, State College, Princeton, Camp Lejeune, Wake Forest, and Georgia Tech all fell by the wayside.

Tar Heel trackmen were running in all directions in every corner of the country during the season. In the Florida Relays Bob Kirk, Bob Morrow, and Jack Moody performed brilliantly. In the Penn Relays Kirk won the javelin again, Albans starred, Magill placed, and the shuttle hurdle relay team of Moody, Albans, Morrow, and newcomer Garrett Fitzgibbons won the American Championship. Albans hiked to Tulare, California to place second behind Bob Mathias in the Decathlon Championship of American colleges. And the entire Carolina team shone in the Carolina Relays.

Bob Kirk was awarded the E. J. Evans trophy, which is given annually to the senior member of the squad for the outstanding performance of the year based on leadership, skill, and sportsmanship. The reason? Victories in the Florida, Penn, and Carolina Relays, Southern-Southeastern Championship meet, and the Southern Conference championships.

Stars were numerous. Among them: Albans, Kirk, Moody, Morrow, Magill, Holden, Terrell, Crimmins, Scott, Brigham, House, and Fitzgibbons.

Harvie Ward, Jr., the nation's defending Collegiate golfing champion, captained the Carolina golfers in the spring of 1950 and led them through a season that saw the Tar Heels win eight times out of eleven tries.

The season was highlighted by the friendly feuding between Coach Chuck Erickson's star pupil and Wake Forest's Arnold Palmer. In the three times Ward and Palmer fought it out on the fairways, Ward won twice. During the dual meet season both players defeated the other once. Then at the Southern Conference championships Ward came through with a brilliant game to defeat the Wake Forest Star and win the Conference title. Palmer defeated Ward in the Southern Inter-collegiate match at Athens, Georgia to even the score.

Led by Ward, who had won the historic North-South Amateur title at Pinehurst in the two previous years, the Tar Heels marched through an enjoyable season, opened with a pair of wins over South Carolina. Dartmouth, State College, Harvard, and Ohio University fell to the Tar Heel power in successive meets before Navy came up to defeat Carolina by one point. The Tar Heels met Wake Forest next and were defeated with the Deacons holding a six-point margin. The Tar Heels bounced back to defeat Michigan and avenge the Wake Forest defeat with an 18-9 win over the Deacs. In the season's finale, the potent Blue Devils of Duke swamped Carolina, 20-7. Then came the Conference meet where Ward copped the title.

During the year the construction work on the new A. E. Finley Golf Course was completed enough so that the first nine holes were available to Chapel Hill Golfers.

In the NCAA meet in New Mexico Ward lost his title when he was defeated in the third round.

TENNIS

Twenty-five times the University's tennis team, captained by veteran Clark Taylor and coached by the likeable John Kenfield, entered collegiate competition in the Spring of 1950, and twenty-three times the Tar Heel squad defeated its opponents. Only powerful Miami and Southern Conference Champion Davidson defeated the Carolina team. The season opened against Ohio State and the Carolinians produced the first of 14 victories before they were to bow to the Wildcats of Davidson, 5-4. A defeat the next day by Miami's Hurricanes, and then on to the Conference championships at Davidson where Clark Taylor was defeated in the finals by Bo Roddey and the Taylor-Charlie Rice tandem was defeated in the doubles by Roddey and Whit Cobb.

LACROSSE

The Spring of 1950 was the second year of collegiate competition for the Tar Heel Lacrosse team. For a sophomore team, they did a commendable job, finishing the season with four victories out of ten contests. Coach Bill Darden built a good team and created interest in the sport before leaving for the Naval Academy where he became an assistant coach. At the end of the season the Tar Heels sent Coach Darden and Co-Captain Grant Lynch to the North-South All-Star game at College Park. The University's team was admitted to the United States Intercollegiate Lacrosse Association.

Hal Taylor, Grant Lynch, Kirk Manning (Co-Captain), and Jesse Greenbaum were the leaders on the field, with strong support from the remainder of the squad.

Newest Addition to the Mural Program is the Greek Week Relays.

The Intramural Sports program at the University of North Carolina is perhaps one of the most extensive programs of its type in the country. Under the direction of Walter Rabb, and assistants Ed Cloyd and Bill Kucyk, the intramural program provided athletic activity for over 75 per cent of the student body. In all, 7,809 participants were entered in the 25 activities sponsored by the Intramural Department. At the end of the 1949-50 season Sigma Chi led the fraternity division program with 1535.1 points scored under the new point scoring system. The Med School led the dormitory division with 1291.4 points. At the end of the fall term in 1950, Zeta Psi was leading the fraternity division with 333.25 points, with defending champions

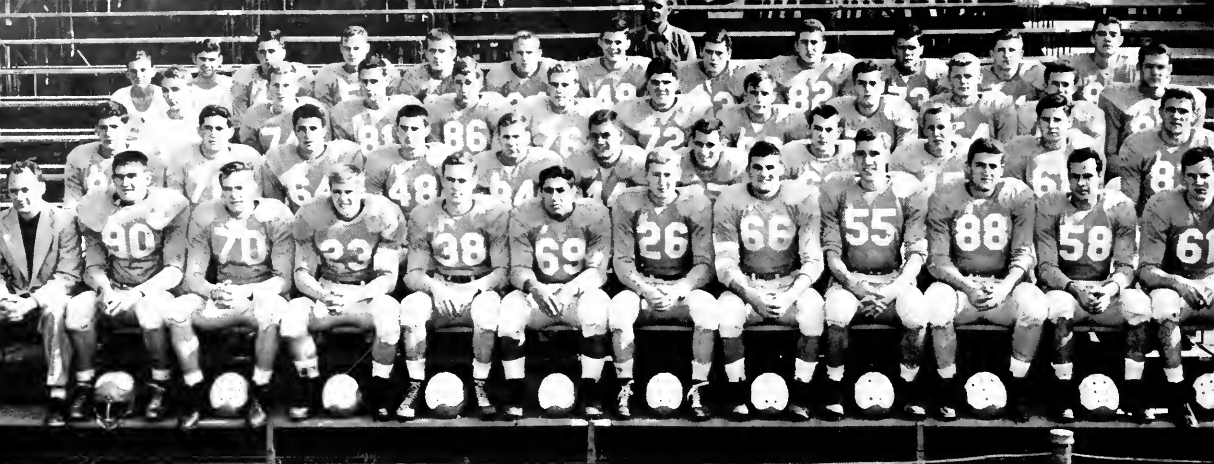

Sigma Chi following close behind with 327.33. In the Dorm division Old West had taken the lead away from the Med School with 230 points. The Med School boys were second with 210.5 points. In addition to the team (and point-scoring) activities, the Intramural Department sponsors the Sports Carnival, Dance Club, and Big Four Sports Carnival. This year the fraternity Greek Week Field Day was successfully added to the program. According to Director Rabb, the Mural program had a relatively successful year and appeared to be growing every quarter. Co-recreational activities have been added to the program, giving the coeds more chance to participate in Intramural athletics.

FRESHMAN SPORTS

Freshman athletics at Chapel Hill were, for the most part, successful for the year 1950-51. But the future of the freshman program looked glum. The reason? The war situation. It looked like this would be the last year of freshman sports for quite a while—there was talk of suspending the freshman rule in order to accommodate the anticipated military college programs. But this year, if it was to be the last for a while, did give us a chance to smile about the future Carolina varsity squads. The freshman football team, under the direction of former Tar Heel football star Jim Camp, defeated Virginia, Wake Forest, and Duke, while losing a close one to State and to Maryland. They were saying we had another Charlie Justice in Quarterback Billy Williams. He could pass, run, and kick very well for a freshman. But there were many others on the squad deserving of attention. Maultsby, Creel, Toledano, Seawell, Motta, Daniels—they were all good. The season opened with a 7-0 loss to State and a 29-20 defeat by the Baby Terrapins. Then the next three games were won by the Tar Babies—34-0 over Virginia, 14-7 over Wake Forest, and 30-0 over Duke in the season's finale. The freshman baseball team completed a winning season under the tutelage of Henry House. They finished the season with ten wins and nine defeats. Don Gilleland was the team's leading hitter, with a .338 average for the season. John Stowe, Bob Henning, and Pitcher Bill Lore were outstanding members of the team that defeated State four times, but dropped all five games to Wake Forest. It was too early to tell much about the 1951 Freshman basketball team, but it looked like they would do well under Dan Nyimicz, another Carolina star turned coach. They were playing an 18 game schedule, including three games with Duke, four with Wake Forest, and two with N. C. State. Roger Kingsbury, the St. Alban's (Washington, D. C.) high school star, George May, Jimmy Breedlove, Fenno McGinty, and several others appeared to be excellent material for future varsity squads. The freshman lacrosse team, playing more or less a practice schedule of four games with Duke, won one out of three. But they were actually unofficial games, not a regular schedule. The first year tennis team, paced by ace Bill Izlar, finished the season with nine wins in 13 outings. Bob Spencer and Gene Oberdorfer fared well on the courts. The freshman wrestling squad finished the season with a 3-2 record, the climax of the season being a 27-5 win over the Blue Devils of Duke. Horton, Stuke, Jordan, and Troxler were the mainstays of the squad. The track team finished the season at the Big Five meet in Raleigh and came out second in the meet. Barry Rizzo copped the Discus event and Jim Johnson won in the broad jump. The freshman cross country team placed second in the Big Five meet with 49 points. In dual meet competition the team won one (beat Duke, 24-32), and lost three. The soccer squad, playing only against State and Duke, didn't win a match all season, but lost several close ones. They played six games in all, four with Duke and two with State. So, all in all, it was a pretty good season for Carolina's freshman teams.

WOMEN'S SPORTS

Athletics play an important part in the lives of women students of the University. In addition to regular physical education classes, there are special sports clubs and an extensive intramural program. The Women's Athletic Association is the organization which sponsors sports for all coeds. The WAA Council consists of one representative from each sorority, dormitory, the CICA, and Town

Association. Officers of the WAA this year are Carolyn Guthrie, president; Dot Teague, vice-president; Audrey Brown, secretary; Betty Cameron, Treasurer; and Margaret Garrett, awards chairman. The purpose of the WAA is to develop qualities of leadership; to promote interest in women's athletics; and to provide opportunity for participation in various fields of recreation. In line with these aims the WAA sponsors an annual fall picnic during orientation week. It helps the CAA present a sports and co-recreational nights. In the Fall the Intramural Program consists of volley ball, hockey, and table tennis; Winter sports include basketball, badminton, shuffleboard, swimming; while spring brings archery, softball, golf and tennis. Following completion of Intramural tournaments an annual spring picnic and awards night is held at which time dormitory and sorority cups are presented to teams with the highest accumulation of points throughout the year in sports events. Individual awards of senior cups and monograms are also presented. Organized clubs for special sport interests hold frequent meetings. These are modern dance, folk dance, basketball, hockey, and swimming. The Hockey Club competes with teams from other universities and colleges. The Splash Club presents an annual water pageant of interest to the entire campus.

The National Chapter of Alpha Epsilon Delta established the North Carolina Beta Chapter of this honorary pre-medical society at the University of North Carolina on March 25, 1936. Since that date the local chapter has been active as a guiding group to interested pre-medical students. It has helped to give these students an insight into the problems and philosophy of a medical career. By the presentation of guest lecturers from the various phases of the medical profession, visits to hospitals, and similar activities, the chapter has endeavored to bridge the gap between the Pre-Medical School and the School of Medicine.

The purpose of the fraternity is the improving of professional standards and the development of leadership through association. Each year the Chapter conducts a mock trial presided over by a member of the state bench. At frequent intervals, it holds banquets at which time imminent speakers from the bar and bench are presented. This year the Chapter has launched a lending-textbook service to students of the Law School. Alpha Phi Omega is the national service fraternity for former Boy Scouts. It was founded in 1925 at Lafayette College, Easton, Pennsylvania. The local chapter was chartered May 19, 1930 as the seventeenth chapter of the national fraternity which now boasts over 200 chapters in colleges of the nation.

Dr. E. Charles Powell, of Goldsboro, N. C., was the first Rho chapter president. On February 25, 1949, Rho chapter was reactivated and initiated 46 members in its first year.

Alpha Phi Omega renders service to student body and faculty, to youth and community, to members of the fraternity, and to the nation as participating citizens. This year Rho chapter will endeavor to enlarge its program and increase its service to the campus, community, and nation.

Alpha Rho Chapter of PHI MU ALPHA

Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia was founded at the New England Conservatory of Music, Boston, Massachusetts, in 1898. Its aims are to advance the cause of music in America, foster the mutual welfare and brotherhood of students of music, develop the truest fraternal spirit among its members, and encourage loyalty to the Alma Mater.

The Alpha Rho Chapter, founded at the University of North Carolina in 1926, takes an active part in the furtherance of musical activities at the University. Each year the chapter presents its American Music Program, a concert devoted to the performance of works by American composers and usually including compositions by members of the fraternity. Whenever possible, Phi Mu Alpha brings to the campus well known guest artists.

Keeping in mind the advancement of the best in music, Phi Mu Alpha attempts to develop a strong fraternal feeling among the promoters of that art.

Phi Delta Chi is a professional pharmaceutical fraternity founded to promote and advance the science of pharmacy by striving to instill in its members the highest ideals and principles worthy of an old and honored profession.

This, the Alpha Gamma Chapter, was established at the University of North Carolina on May 30, 1922. Since then it has been an active organization in the School of Pharmacy.

Activities for the year included purchase of new furniture—new paint—and many hours of hard, but enjoyable, work—smokers—pledging—meetings—new brothers—homecoming luncheon for alumni—parties and celebrations—trips to beaches—our annual spring dance—and of course the usual quizzes and labs all combined to round out one of our most successful years.

PHI CHI

Sigma Theta Chapter of the Phi Chi Medical Fraternity was established at the University in 1905, and has been continuously since that time in affairs of interest to those in the field of medicine. The chapter sponsors educational films, informal gatherings to discuss various subjects pertaining to medicine, and occasional lectures by prominent speakers. An effort is made in this way to maintain a more active interest in, and to keep abreast of, the newest endeavors in the field of medicine.

By way of relief from the more academic aspects, Sigma Theta also offers recreation in the form of several parties sponsored each quarter. These affairs are invariably nights of complete relaxation and congeniality thoroughly enjoyed by all participants.

With the inauguration of the four-year medical school in the offing, Sigma Theta hopes to continue, and even expand, its activities of interest to the medical student.

Delta Theta Phi Law Fraternity is a national organization founded at Cleveland Law School in 1901. It is the largest law fraternity in the United States, having 79 active senates and over 27,000 members. Battle Senate of the University of North Carolina was established in 1924.

The object of the Delta Theta Phi Law Fraternity is to unite fraternally congenial students of the law, to lead them and their fellow students to high scholarship and legal learning, to surround them with an environment such that the tradition of the law and of the profession may descend upon them, to promote justice and to advance the interests of law.

Battle Senate through its speakers program strives to acquaint the law student with some of the practical aspects of the practice of law that cannot be acquired from the law school curriculum. The program is balanced by a series of social events which are held throughout the year.

Our motto: "Justice for fellow men, honor to God and love for brother."

REESE CLUB

The Reeses, founded in time-honored Old East Dormitory, stand for the continued preservation of the many deep-rooted, traditional Southern ideals and customs, meanwhile dedicating themselves to the enjoyment of college life to the fullest extent by a well proportioned blending of study and extra-curricular activity.

In maintaining their second objective, the Reeses have strived for better and more widespread intradormitory and inter-dormitory relations.

Meetings are held upon call by any member for group discussion of pertinent problems and joint action on them. Informal social events are staged by the members, for themselves and their friends, not only throughout the regular school year but during the summer months.

The Tau chapter of Chi Delta Phi, national literary sorority, was re-activated at the University of North Carolina on June 4, 1941. The purpose of Chi Delta Phi is to promote literary activities on the campus and to serve as a stimulating agent for the work of its members.

The members meet in closed sessions twice a month to read and criticize their work, and a speaker of literary interest is presented to the campus once a quarter. The members contribute to and support campus publications and write the annual May Day pageant.

PANHELLENIC COUNCIL

Nancy Iler
President

The composition of the Panhellenic Council consists of three representatives from each sorority and two from the Stray Greeks, the adviser being Mrs. Emery Denny, Jr. The purpose of the Council is to coordinate and further relations between these organizations themselves and also the campus community.

The sororities and Panhellenic opened a highly successful year with the pledging of 115 girls who, along with all the new coeds, were entertained during Orientation Week by a fashion show sponsored by the Council and CICA. Fraternity dances, the annual Oleo skits, spring workshop for new Panhellenic members, and May Day planning highlighted an active calendar of events.

The main project for the year was the adoption of a girl from the Crossnore School in the mountains of North Carolina, and she was provided a scholarship and clothing from the group. Following their annual tradition, the Panhellenic Council awarded a silver loving cup to the sorority with the highest scholastic average for three quarters.

A peep at campus fashions was presented in the fall quarter for all incoming coeds. The theme was "dress—50 years hence from 1900." The luscious models above are Daggie Ogg and Arden Boisseau.

Informal dances are also a large part of the "boy-meet-girl" scheme of Panhell.

Panhell co-ordinates and furthers teas, and other social functions, as the gathering pictured above.

INTERFRATERNITY COUNCIL

The I.F.C., governing body of fraternities at UNC is composed of two members of each fraternity, the fraternity president and a junior member. Its purpose is to further by unification and high ideals—brotherhood, character, and citizenship—of the individual fraternities.

During the past year, under the very capable leadership of Dale Morrison, the I.F.C. has functioned in a way most beneficial to its fraternity members as well as to the University itself.

A dynamic body, with unity of purpose and steadfastness to its ideals, the I.F.C. of the University of North Carolina will continue to strive for the betterment of its members in their relations with other groups and organizations, its ideals being the development of men as students, citizens, and brothers.

Fall came in with a bang! "Calvarade." The draft was felt by Gordo and The Robe, the rest of us waiting for our "Greetings." Mom was waiting for us with open arms and a newly painted house. Rushing with those Ipana smiles, and, Geck, the friendly undertaker. The Big Shot and those cops at St. Marys. Parties at the Buck and Curve Inn down.

Christmas came and also commissions for Whitlock and Gilmore . . . U. S. Navy. For Platte . . . U. S. Infantry. Mid-Winters parties and trips to the mountains. Oh, that beautiful scenery. Winter left us and so did Norman, the bull dog. Spring came and brought with it more parties, trips to the beach, and initiation at last. With lumps in our throats, we say goodbye Yokely, Holmes, and Cheesborough. Wait, don't forget Baldy and a wonderful year at Carolina and the Beta House.

This year has been another step upward for Alpha-Apha of Chi Phi. We got off to a good start even before school started when a large number of the brothers came back early and painted the entire inside of the house. The dining room received the most attention, acquiring a new color scheme and fluorescent lighting.

We have had more than our share of campus leaders this year with Chi Phis doing outstanding work in every phase of extra-curricular activity. However, we have tried to remain well rounded by placing special emphasis on scholarship as well. An excellent assures continued success.

Some of the highlights of the year included the fourth annual Orphan's Party at Christmas, the winter Pledge Banquet and Ball, the yearly Shipwreck Party, and the numerous beach excursions and cabin parties. But the finest occasion of the year was the tea last fall, at which we proudly presented our new housemother, Mrs. Norwood Bizzell, to the rest of the campus. She has been an asset to this chapter that even the new television couldn't overshadow.

It was a year of superlatives. Parties were the wildest or the greatest, and exams were the worst. The football week-ends found us partying madly as usual. Perhaps the maddest of all was the Maryland week-end when about thirty of the College Park brothers paid us a call. Oh well, we were bored with that furniture anyway. We didn't play host all the time, though, as the folks down in Columbia will testify.

Our serenades were superlative, too. We aren't quite the Robert Shaw Chorale, but then Andy isn't quite Robert Shaw. The annual Christmas Party for the Methodist Orphanage was again a huge success, and the Dance Committee will be happy to hear that our pledge banquet came off right well also.

All in all it was a terrific year. Next year . . . who knows?

The Phi Kappa Sigma Fraternity celebrated its one hundreth anniversary this year. Lambda chapter along with its eminent alumni guests celebrated the occasion on Founder's Day with a banquet and induction of forty-one new pledges.

The house is in the best shape it has been in many a year. New plastering, new bright-striped wall paper, and freshly painted walls greet the visitor as he enters. The dining room with its pastel green walls and flowered wallpaper provided a real treat for those who spent their Saturday evenings after the football games there eating Jordan's buffet supper specials.

Lambda is making many plans toward reconversion. A new oil furnace is due to replace the trembling old boiler that they have now. Someday the members eagerly visualize a dining room in the basement.

The annual Winter and Spring House Parties are still the main social events, and they are anxiously anticipated.

This year the Pi Kappas started early and gave the house a new look and the parties a new push. There were 18 brothers in the house and many more in dorms. We had 26 new pledges who were to be the future brothers of Pi Kappa Phi.

We couldn't always celebrate a victory but we managed to celebrate. D. G. and Bucky were out in front as usual with everyone ready to take part. It was great to see some of our departed brothers back in the middle of everything.

What a party. How could it miss? Corky and Wild Bill were operating, Speck was supplying the vocals accompanied by Hick, Dub, Clyde and Jensen were at the table of operations, Rhe had important business on her mind. Yes, it was a big year for Kappa; Duke and State came over, we went to Georgia and S. C. In the spring was the annual Rose Ball with memories never to be forgotten.

Thanks to the brothers, our house was in the best shape since pre-war days upon our return this fall. During the summer, in spite of pro tennis matches and numerous parties, Trotter and Murchison went all out in participating in both sports, tennis and painting. The State week-end found us like all the other fraternities . . . anxious to get the coeds back in the house. After all, the Arboretum can get pretty damp at times . . . so says Barney "Lover" Boardman. Notre Dame was next, and our brothers wheeled off for Greensboro, Roaring Gap, and Wilmington to view our Dalt and Julian on TV. "No Legs" Guest, "Cotton Tail" Caulkins, "Bean Bag" Wilcox, and "Gat" Johnson dated queens from W. C. and blew it out at the Country Club in Greensboro.

To hell, To hell, To hell, with Georgia could be heard ringing from the caravan heading to Athens on another terrific week-end. Brother Basil Jackson did a bang up job as chauffeur, bartender, and valet the whole week-end.

Willie Benbow surprised us all by getting the jump on Dyke, Bugar, and Jim Fox . . . he took the fatal step of marriage in the fall. Two weeks later found the Green Room in use again with the brothers and fourteen fine pledges.

After the Homecoming track meet with William and Mary, "Fort S.A.E." resounded with shouts of L.I.A.H.O. and the German Week-end was one of the greatest with Chuck and Smiley doing the honors for N. C. Xi.

In closing, we would like to wish all the success and luck in the world to three brothers, Stan Travis, Bob Nutt, and Sonny Price who have been tapped by our favorite and honor order, The Draft Board.

We're really rolling now! Got a house, its face all cleaned and painted, and got the spirit. "Buck" is gone, but the memory and breath linger on. Open house for the campus . . . "you know where we are, over on East Rosemary. . . ." Thrill of a lifetime when the alums come back to their house for the first time in 11 years and the sororities come over for a "social." Chapters visiting from all over the East . . . yes, it's a great feeling to be in your own home. Many thanks to Mr. Morehead, however.

Can't ever forget the ugliness of "The Ugliest Man On Campus" nor the beauty of the Sweetheart of Theta Chi. And how about all the nice things said to us by friends all over the campus. It's good to be back.

Brother from Dook transfers to Carolina chapter and never lives it down. Still a brother, but what a rearing he had at that cigarette factory in Durham. That first football game of the intramural season . . . we stomped all over them. But wait, no dressers or desks. Well, we'll get by . . . there's lots of floor space.

A great heritage to live up to, but we're rolling so fast now it'd take a brick wall to slow us down. First glass of punch spilled on the new furniture during rushing. Oh, my gawd, send for the mop!

Glad to be back and glad to enjoy the house with all our friends. "C'mon over for a while, help us get the newness out of it . . ."

Alpha Pi Chapter of Zeta Beta Tau was founded on the University of North Carolina campus in 1927. The national fraternity, founded at C.C.N.Y. in 1898, has 48 chapters in the United States and one in Canada.

The chapter began this year ranking third among fraternities in scholarship. In activities, ZBT has Herb Nachman, Editor of Tarnation; Jerry Sternberg, President of the University Club; and Bob Raskin, Interfraternity Council Rushing Chairman. There are several varsity athletes. Highlighting ZBT's social activities is the formal anniversary dinner-dance in the winter quarter. Periodical house parties and lively football week-ends will be remembered by all who have taken part.

Activities...

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

Student Government and the University find fundamental identity in their mutual chief objective—the training of responsible, informed, and thinking citizens.

Living in an atmosphere of self-direction and self-restraint, we learn here the basic lessons of responsible citizenship. Participating in the activities and processes of Student Government, men and women learn the meaning of responsible action, of initiative, and of creativeness in the field of self-government.

It is not merely that we here at Carolina do with freedom many things which in all but a few schools do not lie within the purview of student control. Rather, the most lastingly important thing is that through these activities, through this freedom to do and to err, we learn these lessons which can be learned in no other way than by taking on authority and by exercising it intelligently and responsibly in the interest of the whole community.

Herb Mitchell

Vice-President of the Student Body

That student self-government is considered sound educational practice is adequately demonstrated by the enlarging area of autonomy which we enjoy. That it is sound training for fruitful participation in democratic government in later life is dramatically illustrated by those student leaders who subsequently have attained high public office and exercised it faithfully, from James K. Polk to Frank Graham.

If democracy is to achieve its highest degree of benefit to all, it must constantly be expanding. We are, therefore, ever striving towards a fuller realization of the potentialities of student self government. This spirit of an expanding democracy has been our guide from the earliest days of the University; it is our inspiration for today, and our chief hope for tomorrow.

The Student Legislature, founded in 1938, continues to function as the legislative branch of student government. Nearly all rules and regulations governing students here at the university are passed by this group. Its wide and varied powers, as defined in the 1950 revised constitution, are limited to its willingness to accept the responsibility which inevitably goes with authority.

Each legislator, elected by the students of his particular campus district, is faced with the problem of realizing that office is not honor—it is responsibility to his constituents and hard work. The success of each session is dependent upon this realization.

During the past year the Legislature did not pause to remember its successes but went forward to meet the new and vitally important problems, which faced the Carolina student body. Under the conscientious and capable leadership of Speaker Herb Mitchell, the Legislature worked with interested effort and was rewarded to see many problems resolved. Debate on many questions was heated, but a vote of accord prevailed.

It was a successful year for the Student Legislature and a further example of the superiority of our self-governing student body.

STUDENT COUNCIL

STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council is concerned with the Honor System and the Campus Code. The Council, which is the supreme court at Carolina, has original jurisdiction in cases involving the constitutionality of the Student Government Constitution. This court also hears appeals made from a defendant if he or she feels that either the Men's or Women's Council have tried the case unfairly. Any student or organization penalized by any of the other courts can also appeal to the Student Council.

The Council is composed of three members selected from and by the women students; three elected from and by the men students; three elected from and by all students—making a total of nine members.

COED SENATE

The Coed Senate, established in 1941 and originally part of the Women's Government Association, is the legislative body for women students. The purpose of the Senate is to bring the coed into the picture of student government; and in acting as the bridge between coeds and the student legislature, the Senate is the ultimate coordinating body for coed action.

Included in the duties of the Senate is the distribution of funds collected each quarter from the coeds to the organizations on campus whose membership is made up entirely of women. The Coed Senate also ratifies all social rules which have passed the Interdormitory Council, holds election for offices in all branches of women's student government, and appoints the chairman of women's orientation committees.

The annual coed ball is presented by the Senate at the end of orientation week in the fall, and each spring leadership training week is sponsored; a week designed to acquaint the newly elected officers of women's organizations with their responsibility.

The Coed Senate is now composed of 33 women, 13 of which make up the Interdormitory Council and 20 of which are elected to represent a dormitory or a town district. Since the fall of 1950 the Interdormitory Council has been merged with the Senate to form a committee of the Senate.

MEN'S HONOR COUNCIL

MEN'S HONOR COUNCIL

The Men's Honor Council, acting under the Student Council and with duties corresponding to those of the Women's Council, tries cases involving Campus Code and Honor Code violations. At present, it is composed of eleven members—one from Law School, one from Medical School, one from the School of Pharmacy, one from the Graduate School, two Sophomores, two Juniors, two Seniors, and one hold-over from last year's council.

In addition to its regular work, the Men's Council has recently strived diligently toward making new students properly conscious of their privileges and responsibilities as citizens of this University—particularly emphasizing the significance of our two codes of conduct and of the dynamic role they play in Student Government and in the reversed "Carolina Way of Life."

WOMEN'S HONOR COUNCIL

Winifred Harriss, Chairman

The Women's Honor Council is the coed judiciary which handles violations of the Honor System and the Campus Code by women students, working as a parallel to the Men's Council. The Women's Council also acts as an appellate court for House Council decisions. The Council is one branch of the tripartite system of coed self-government, working with Coed Senate and Women's Interdormitory Council.

Each year the Council leads the orientation of women students in the Honor System and Campus Code, instructing entering coeds in the origin and meaning of these standards. Composed of four junior, three seniors, one graduate student, and one woman student at large, the Women's Council is an important phase of self-government, striving to increase a fuller participation in the Carolina way of life.

Officers this year were: Winifred Harriss, Chairman; Judy Sanford, Clerk.

MEN'S INTER-DORMITORY COUNCIL

Men's Interdormitory Council

The Men's Interdormitory Council represents over 3,000 men living in the University's twenty dormitories. Its membership is composed of the presidents and faculty advisors of each constituent.

The council's main functions are the improvement of living conditions in the dormitories, and the enforcement of rules of conduct of men in their living quarters. It also worked with the Women's Interdormitory Council to improve living conditions for all students.

President of the Men's Interdormitory Council this year was Sidney Turner.

WOMEN'S INTERDORMITORY COUNCIL

Women's Interdormitory Council

The Women's Interdormitory Council is the Administrative body of coed self-government. Composed of dormitory presidents, sorority house managers, and the president of the Town Girls Association, this group works with the Board of Residence in regulating dormitory life and contacts through house meetings.

Under the revised constitution, Women's Interdormitory Council is now a working committee of Coed Senate. This set-up enables the two groups to work more closely. The functions of Interdorm include interpreting social regulations, recommending changes in regulations in Coed Senate, and supervising the House Councils. Through Interdorm, all coed administration is coordinated and linked to the Office of the Dean of Women.

Special projects for the year were the sponsoring of a House Council Training Conference in the fall, the drafting of a handbook to guide Interdorm in the future, and working for more dormitory spirit through sports and social functions.

Rosalie Varn served as President, and Catherine Shaw, as Secretary of the Women's Interdormitory Council. Edna Matthes served as representative to Graham Memorial Board of Directors.

GRAHAM MEMORIAL STUDENT UNION

Graham Memorial, the University student union, is the social and activity center of the campus. Its services include a newly-instituted carpenter shop where students may receive instruction in wood-working, and a sign-printing shop to serve student organizations, as well as a travel agency, barber shop, mimeographing service, photo dark room, music lounge and information center. The entertainment activities sponsored consist of such functions as free dances to which all students are invited, weekly floorshows in the Rendezvous Room and classical and popular music concerts.

The newly-appointed director, James Rathburn, an energetic and resourceful administrator, planned an interesting, constructive program for the year to keep pace with the ever-increasing needs of the expanding student body.

Every student is a member of the union, to the support of which $1.00 of the block fee is allocated. Dedicated as a memorial to Edward Kidder Graham, the building was completed in 1931. It is student-managed and student-staffed. The over-all direction of Graham Memorial is in the hands of a 12-man board composed of students, faculty and administrative members as follows: Katherine Carmichael, Kemp Cate, J. Maryon Saunders, Fred Weaver, E. J. Woodhouse, Mary Mac Kear, Vinton Hoyle, Jr., Doran Berry, Edna Matthes, Jack Prince, Evalyn Harrison, Zane Robbins, Harry Horton, Chairman; James Rathburn, Ann Townsend.

The building houses the offices of Student Government and all of the student publications as well as furnishing meeting space for over 130 campus organizations.

In the spacious oak-panelled main lounge, completely equipped with individual reading lamps, soft comfortable chairs, and the latest newspapers and magazines, students are welcome to read, study, or play games from early morning until late at night.

The Young Women's Christian Association on the Carolina campus is an ever growing, working organization, with members engaged in a realm of activities, fulfilling a three-fold purpose:

To seek to know God; to understand Jesus and follow Him—

To unite in a desire to realize a full and creative college life—

To determine to have a part in making this life possible for all people.

Organized on campus in 1937, the YWCA is now composed of over 500 members, and two full-time directors, as contrasted with the original small organization and volunteer staff.

Each of the 30 committees carries out a program within one of the YWCA divisions: Christian Faith; Personal Development; Campus Activities; Social Responsibility and World Relatedness. These Activities range from baby-sitting to ballet classes; from dorm stores to campus discussions.

General Association meetings and retreat conferences are held often; while Membership Council and Cabi-

STUDENT AUDIT BOARD

The Student Audit Board has charge of the Student Activities Office, which in turn handles all the accounts of student organizations. The Student Audit Board is the auditor of the campus and keeps a close tabulation in all financial matters.

The Board is composed of five student members and three faculty advisors: Mr. Kemp Cate, Mr. J. A. Williams, and Dean Friday. Mr. H. A. Kear is the congenial accountant who signs all the checks and keeps the records.

Any organization on the campus may operate their funds through the Student Audit Board as well as the organizations receiving funds under the block fee.

The Board endeavors to offer every student organization the best possible accounting service.

PUBLICATIONS BOARD

The Publications Board handles all financial matters pertaining to the three student publications, The Daily Tar Heel, the Yack and the Tarnation. The Board approves budgets for the three publications, makes and breaks contracts, approves all appointments by editors to salaried positions, purchases equipment and handles all other financial details.

A new position of publications financial coordinator was set up by the Board this year to supervise the spending of funds and to assist the Board in financial matters of all types. Ernest S. DeLaney, Jr., currently holds this position.

Plagued by legislative cuts last spring and lack of expected funds, the Board was forced to make several drastic cuts this year. These unfortunate but necessary cuts were described as "steps in the wrong direction," but the Board hopes that future allocations of money will allow reinstatement of cut items.

Faculty members of the Board are Dr. G. A. Barrett and Mr. Jack Riley. Student members are Zane Robbins, chairman; Frank Allston, Jr., secretary; Taylor Vaden, treasurer; Bill Skinner, legislative representative, and Herb Nachman.

Newly instated Publications Financial Coordinator, Ernest S. DeLaney, Jr., The F.B.I. of publications.

The "city-room" of the Daily Tar Heel is a crux of activity from early in the day till evening, when the daily tabloid hits the presses. Serviced by the Associated Press wire, the student body is kept up with notional as well as daily campus news by the student newspaper.

In the office of the humor mag, Tarnation, you will almost always find the staff hard at work on a new survey of coed life. Those surveys never seem to accomplish anything but always manage to keep the staff off the streets.

This was destined to be the year that we all went back to raccoon coats, the Charleston, and the dependable T-model Ford. The renaissance of "Joe College" was about to be awakened when the world was again thrown into a threatening conflict between eastern powers.

We got as far as the Charleston then a new fad took the fancies of many of the degree hopeful Carolina Gentlemen: Uncle Sam's Air Corps in preference to the infantry. The army cried, "... if you're not Phi Beta, we're drafting you immediately." Fraternities practically closed down over night. Then they started on the 18-year-olds. They got that settled, then the Air Corps announces that it's not accepting any more men because of "... crowded conditions at our present bases ..." With this they promised that everyone could stay in school ... until June 1st when they would fill their "quota" of fifty thousand men! We waited. And life even seemed sometimes normal. We had fun; publishing the year book, going to classes, taking physicals, having parties, studying, and so forth all year. Coeds began to worry about who would be left in '52 when the boy-girl ratio would change from 7 to 1 almost inversely. Life insurance policies only came with war clauses and a severe case of go-to-hellism broke out in Universities all over the United States. But through it all, we of the 1951 Yackety Yack, have survived, enjoying every work-packed hour. Hope you like our book.

DAILY TAR HEEL

During the 1950-51 school year the Daily Tar Heel continued its fine record as the official voice of the student body, and continually lived up to its duty as the "Oldest College Daily in the South." Boasting the only wire room in collegiate circles to have the services of both United and Associated Press, the paper also gave topnotch coverage of campus news, including a special edition for the inauguration of President Gordon Gray.

Roy Parker, Jr., a two-year veteran on the paper, took over the editorial reins in the fall after Graham Jones resigned. He, along with a staff that included Associate Editor Don Maynard and Executive News Editor Chuck Hauser, brought to the editorial page a quality and force that made the paper's voice a powerful and respected one.

On the news side, Managing Editor Rolfe Neill held down the top post, aided by such veterans as News Editor Andy Taylor, and reporters Edd Davis, John Noble, Barrett Boulware, and Walt Dear. Sportswise, it was Sports Editor Zane Robbins, aided by such seasoned sportshawks as Joe Cherry, Frank Allston, Lew Chapman, and Bill Peacock, who continued the fine record of the paper in its coverage of Tar Heel Sports.

TARNATION

"There are times when I want to pucker up and spit this here terbaccy juice right in your eye, Vermillion. How come you went and used my magnifying glass to singe them chicken feathers? Now its busted and how am I gonna read my Tarnation?"

"Now you just listen to me, young Zeb, that there Tarnation ain't good for nothing no way. You can only read it in the you-know-what, and you can't even hide behind it in class."

"Why, Vermillion, I'm surprised at you. Everybody knows the Nawth Caline Killigite Press Club done voted Tarnation the very bestest magazine in the state for three years runnin'. Heck, the Duke 'N Crutches didn't hold a candle. It ain't even been a pocket book long enough to fuss about, only a couple years, and this here fellow Herb Nachmanthe eddytor and his buddy John Moore, the managing something-or-other and that there cartoon man Hugh Gale got together and really went to town this year. Heck, I laughed so hard, lost my false teeth in the oatmeal, five times. And there were a lot of other fellows did a heck of a job, those advertisements this Bob Clampitt drew up was 's funny and clever I couldn't go in those stores without saying something about 'em. All them pretty gals they had in there around Christmas time kind of struck my fancy too. And that issue which looked like Quick or what ever its called, had me fooled all the time. Now, Vermillion, I'm going uptown and get me another magnifying glass, and no more foolishness out of you. I'm looking forward to those Tarnations again next year, they're gettin' better 'n better every time."

This year marks the second that our humor magazine has been produced in the handy "go to class" form. Although the motives of Editor Tom Kerr (the one before Nachman) were financial when he changed Tarnation to the "pocket" size, he set a precedent which has held on thus far.

The student body seems to like the small magazine which is only half as large but contains twice the number of pages as did the "standard" mag.

The fact that Tarnation is the only college humor magazine of its size in the country and has been awarded journalistic merits for its stories and layout places it high on the list of "elective reading."

Long active at Carolina the Town Girls Association provides an opportunity for the girls who live in Chapel Hill to become acquainted with student affairs and to participate in extra-curricular activities. It provides organized support for Town Girls qualified for candidacyship in coed elections and supports athletic teams in intramural contests.

Several major events highlighted T G A's program this year. Fall quarter was begun with an orientation week social for new coeds followed later by a Thanksgiving party for the football team. With winter came the holiday festivities at Graham Memorial climaxed by a Christmas Dance. Picnics were the main order for spring, and a most successful year was rounded out by a party for graduating seniors.

CAROLINA FORUM

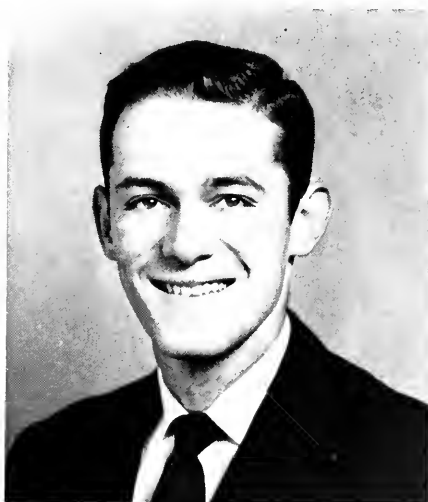

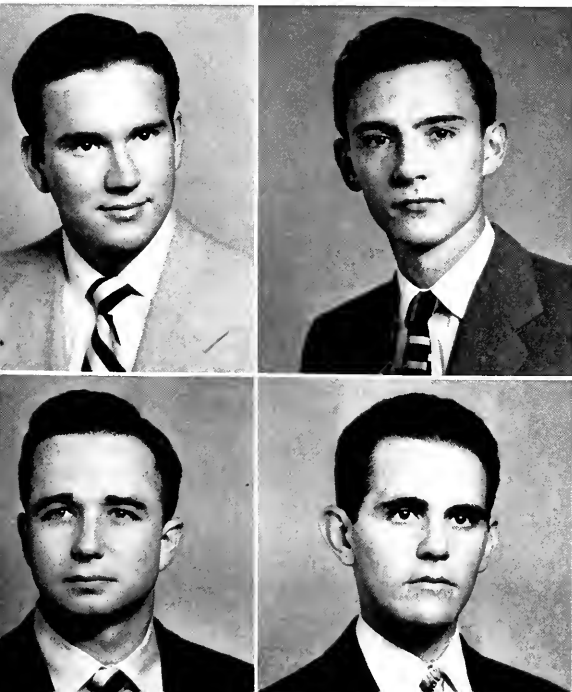

The Carolina Forum is student government's new baby; its history on campus dates back to only 1948. But brevity of existence can be no criteria of accomplishment, for the Carolina Forum has been very successful in achieving its goals.

The Forum's function on campus is to bring prominent and outstanding speakers of national renown to address the students on subjects of national and international importance. Under the chairmanship for the past two years of the present President and Vice-President of the Student Body, the Forum has brought to the campus such speakers as Eleanor Roosevelt, Senator Robert Taft, Governors J. Strom Thurmond, Eugene Talmadge, and others.

This year, with President Gordon Gray giving invaluable assistance to the group, the Forum has raised its sights in attempting to procure such topflight State Department men as John Foster Dulles, Dean Acheson, James Webb, and Dean Rusk, in addition to such others as Senators Estes Kefauver, Millard Tydings, Leverett Saltonstall, James Byrnes, Edward R. Murrow, Leon Keyserling, Ralph McGill, Omar Bradley, and Mark Clark.

The University Club is primarily a service organization and all of its functions are carried through in the interest of the student body and the University. The motto of the Club—for the University—is self-explanatory of the purposes of the Club.

Composed of a representative from each dormitory, fraternity, sorority and the Monogram Club, it has direct contact with almost every student on the campus.

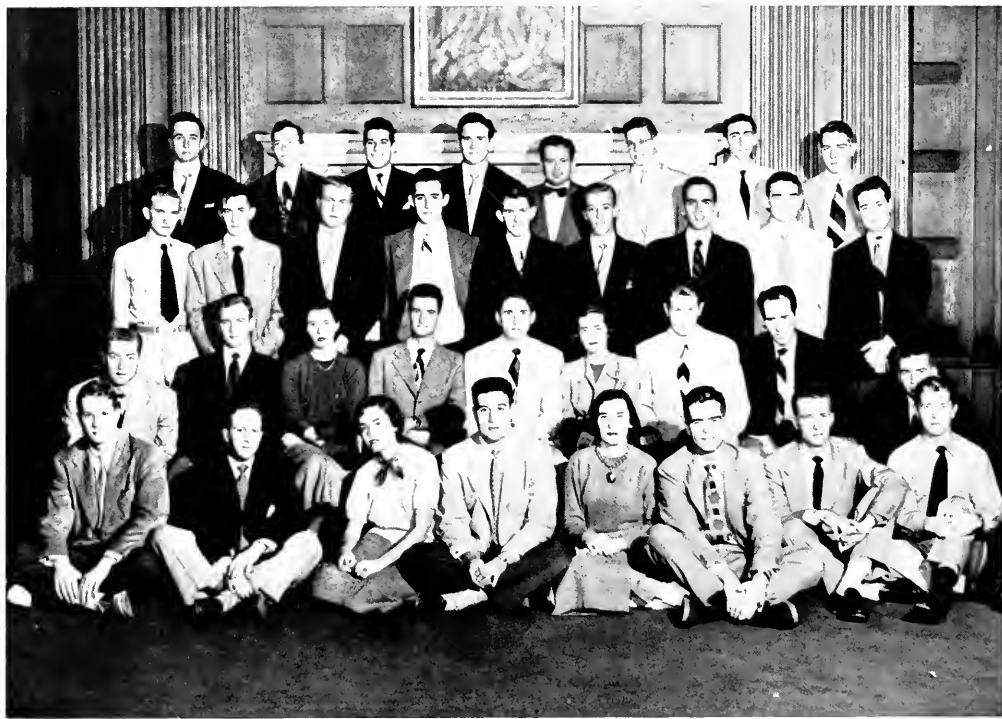

The best homecoming display, but it didn't win any prizes.

Joyce Evans receives trophy as Homecoming Queen of 1950 season.

The functions of the Club are many and varied. Through its co-operation with the Athletic Association, the Club seeks to promote and maintain enthusiasm and good sportsmanship in all University events by sponsoring pep rallies, entertaining visiting teams, and fulfilling various other functions. This year the University Club has arranged transportation and accommodations for students attending the Tennessee game in Knoxville. Also each year it is in charge of the Homecoming game week-end and the various float contests. A new feature this year will be the sponsoring of the Southern Pep Conference with representation of schools from all over the South.

The officers this year were Jerry Sternberg, President; Paul Winslow, Vice-President; Daggy Ogg, Secretary; and Duffield Smith, Treasurer.

UNIVERSITY PARTY

Of the two organized political parties on campus, the University Party is the oldest, having been functioning continuously on the behalf of student welfare for more than two decades.

The University Party record compiled in the past twenty odd years defies comparison with other political organizations that are on campus now or that have been during recent years. The UP has always advocated forthright policies designed for the betterment of student government here at the University; it has always nominated qualified, capable candidates, and has enjoyed great success in defeating independent candidates and candidates of other parties.

During the past year the University Party took another step forward when it inaugurated a policy of holding regular open meetings with the student body invited to attend. Veering away from its old organizational format, the party also voted representatives of the dormitory districts into its Steering Committee.

The Organization of the University Party consists of the general party membership, the Steering Committee, and the Executive Committee.

University Veterans Association

Wilson Yorborough, President

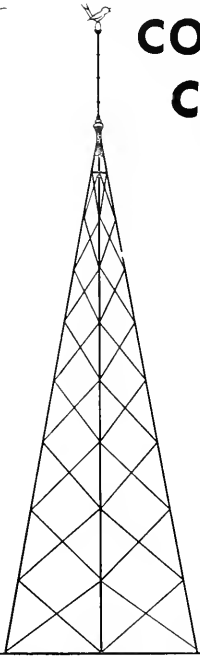

The University Veterans Association was founded in the summer of 1945 for the purpose "of providing an organized veterans association which shall represent the interest of the veterans of the student body on all problems concerning their welfare."

This year the membership was about six hundred. Included in this membership were members of the Air and Naval ROTC units who have shown increased interest in the Association this year.

An important activity of the Veterans Association is the maintenance of the Vets Club. The Clubhouse is operated to provide relaxation and entertainment for members and their dates. Maurice Bowden is Clubhouse manager.

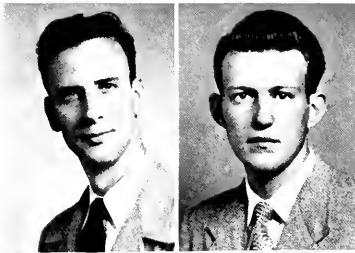

The Association is governed by the officers and the Board of Directors. Colonel Shephard is advisor for the Association.

HILLEL FOUNDATION

The B'nai B'rith Hillel Foundation was organized twenty-seven years ago by the B'nai B'rith, the largest Jewish service organization in the country. There are now 200 Hillel units serving Jewish students throughout the United States, Canada, Cuba and Israel.

The Foundation attempts to meet the religious, cultural, social, and vocational needs of the Jewish students on the campus. Activities include religious services, exhibits, forums, classes, dances, vocational information, and projects of an interfaith nature.

Hillel is a democratic organization. The program is determined by the Cabinet and by the various committees, through which the students participate in the organization. The Hillel Foundation thus helps train the students for leadership in the Jewish and the general community.

Officers this year are: Solomon Kimerling, President; Theodore Frankel, Vice-President; Joseph Arnold, Secretary; Herbert Paul Kaplan, Treasurer.

CAROLINA PLAYMAKERS

The Carolina Playmakers, completing their thirty-third season, look back with pride and wonder at the simple beginnings in 1918. In that year, Frederick H. (Prof) Koch came to the University and introduced his famous "English 31," a course for beginning playwrights. The work of creating a new and vital folk drama had begun.

The staging activities fall into two sections. There is first the program of major productions, including contemporary plays, classics, musical comedies, operas, and occasionally an original which seems of great merit. At least one play is staged outdoors in the famed Koch Memorial Forest Theatre, and another is taken on extended tour through the state, and beyond.

Parallel with the major productions, and considered of at least equal importance, are the student productions of original one-act and full-length plays.

The Carolina Playmakers are, in a very real sense, a community theatre. There are no mysterious initiation rites. Any student, member of the faculty, or resident of the area may become a member simply by taking an active part in any one of the many phases involved in the production of a Playmaker play.

PHILANTHROPIC ASSEMBLY

Since 1795, the Phi Assembly has helped to initiate and maintain many of the finest traditions found at Carolina. Prominent among its contributions are the Library, New East, Student Government, the Honor System and the School Colors.

Since its organization one hundred fifty-six years ago, the Phi has won an indispensable place in our University, State, and enjoys a name famous for debate in literary circles everywhere. Throughout its history, the Assembly has been a laboratory in public speaking, a forum of free thought and free speech, and a Society dedicated to the principles of Friendship, Study, and Debate. Now, as in the past, the Phi continues to train its members to be useful citizens and leaders in a free world.

UNIVERSITY SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA

The University Symphony Orchestra was organized in order to give instrumentalists the valuable experience of playing together and other people in the vicinity the opportunity of hearing the standard symphonic music first hand.

The orchestra, numbering over fifty players, is composed of students, faculty members, and townspeople.

Besides its three concerts every year, it accompanies operettas and oratorios presented by local organizations.

The officers for this year were: Thomas Allred, President; Clay Crisp, Vice-President; and John Satterfield, Secretary-Treasurer.

University Symphony Orchestra

Harry Garland
President

The Men's Glee Club began the year in a big way by joining the Women's Glee Club and the other clubs of the Consolidated University in singing for the inaugural ceremony of President Gray in the State College Coliseum. Then followed the annual Christmas Concert with the Women's Glee Club, which has become a regular feature of Christmas in Chapel Hill. Further plans for the year included a tour of the western part of the state with the women, and another concert or two on campus, and a joint concert with the Greensboro College glee club.

Directing the club this year was Joel Carter, chairman of the voice and choral department. Officers for the year were Harry Garland, President; George Lofquist, Vice-President; Joe Beasley, Secretary; and Al Johnson, Business Manager.

MEN'S GLEE CLUB

Men's Glee Club

The Women's Glee Club, under the able direction of Mr. Joel Carter, anticipated a highly successful year. The fifty or more girls who participated in the twice-weekly rehearsals worked hard for perfection in the several performances which the club gave during the year.

After joining with the choral groups of other schools in the Greater University to take part in the inauguration ceremony of President Gordon Gray, interest was centered upon preparation for the annual Christmas concert which is given in conjunction with the Men's Glee Club. A spring tour of North Carolina by a combined representation from each organization was looked forward to with enthusiasm.

Officers of the club for the 1950-51 year were: Margaret Gwaltney, President; Barbara Whipple, Vice-President; Carolyn Long, Secretary; Nancy Richmond, Treasurer.

BAND

Earl Slocum, Director

The varsity band, under the direction of Earl Slocum, Professor of Music, and Assistant Director, Hubert Henderson, is organized to accomplish a dual purpose; to furnish colorful programs at football games and various other University functions, and to provide opportunities for student members to study and perform the best musical literature written for the concert band.

In the fall, football shows are the chief concern. The UNC band has given outstanding performances at football games in past years, and it has, perhaps, its largest and most appreciative audiences in Kenan Stadium on football Saturdays. After football season, the band is divided into two units. These units render a concert during the winter quarter for visiting members of the North Carolina Bandmasters' Association.

In the spring, the Band presents a series of lawn concerts for the enjoyment of students, faculty, and townspeople. The band is one of many organizations open to qualified students here at Carolina—organizations which benefit both the student and the school. Officers for the year were Carl Baxter, President; Tom Allred, Vice-President; Conrad Stewart, Secretary-Treasurer; Bill Curtiss, Publicity Manager; John Rae, Business Manager; Allen Ludwick, Band Notes Editor; Earl Justice and Fred Rierison, Librarians.

THE DIALECTIC SENATE

The Dialectic Senate was founded in 1795 and is the only campus organization that has been active on the campus as long as the University has been in operation. It was the forerunner of all student activities on the campus at the present time and is still giving birth to new ideas and new implementation of those ideas.

The Senate provides a forum of student opinion in its weekly informal debates on topics of campus, state and national interest. It is a training ground for parliamentary procedure, developing the art of arguing and logic and experience in administrative tasks.

The Di has had a wonderful year. Lots of good times and plenty of hot debates, honors, the presentation of Dr. Archibald Henderson's portrait and the annual banquet have helped make this year a high point in the Societies 156th year of operation.

Officers are James Louis Lamm, President; Talbot Selby, President Pro-tem; Robert Clompitt, Critic; Walter Tice, Clerk; John Schnarrenberg, Treasurer; and David Woodruff, Sergeant-at-Arms.

Although the Debate Council is a direct outgrowth of the Dialectic Senate and the Philanthropic Society and for many years represented the student government, it no longer confines itself to a strictly "on campus" function; but sends its representatives to numerous Forensic Tournaments to compete with many of the major universities in the East.

The Council members are a selected number of students chosen by the debate squad, a representative from each of the debating societies, and two faculty advisors.

Officers for the year were: Paul Roth, President; and Carolyn Stallings, Executive Secretary. Dr. Norman Mattis served as faculty advisor.

STRAY GREEKS

Rooney Miller
President

In 1944 the Stray Greeks were founded under the leadership of Twig Branch, and since then have received more and more recognition as a social group. The organization is composed of sorority girls whose chapters are not represented on this campus.

The aim of the Stray Greeks is to provide a social outlet for its members and to preserve the bonds of unity and sisterhood in sorority life. Activities of the group include co-sponsor of the Orientation Fashion Show, taking charge of the Pan Hell Post Office during rushing, participating in Pan Hell dances, and the Valkyries sing. The Stray Greeks special project was aiding a charitable organization in the community.

Carolina Independent Coed Association

The Carolina Independent Coed Association was organized in 1941 by a group of Stray Greeks and Independent coeds who felt the need of a co-ordination body of non-sorority women.

The purpose of the organization is to promote good will and fellowship among the coeds through the sponsorship of social functions, the creation and stimulation of coed interest in campus affairs and the provision of organized support for qualified independent candidates in coed elections.

The Carolina Independent Coed Association is a democratic group working for the benefit of all Carolina. Projects for this year were as follows: Fashion show held in cooperation with the Panhellenic Council; Series of informal dances held in the Pine Room, with all CICA members as hostesses; Sadie Hawkins Day; and sponsoring "Meet the Candidates" nights preceding student elections.

GERMAN CLUB

The Officers of the Club: Jacob Froelich, President; Marvin Ferrell, Vice-President; William Rue, Secretary; George Blackwelder, Treasurer.

The German Club, Composed of representatives of thirteen social fraternities on campus, sponsors three dance week-ends each year, bringing name bands to the campus. Under the efficient direction of Jake Froelich, President, the 1950-51 dances were claimed highly successful.

In October the German Club activities began with the Fall Germans, featuring Woody Herman and his "Herman Herd." The highlights of this week-end were the U. N. C. - William and Mary game, homecoming displays, and the dinner party held Saturday night at the Buccaneer.

The next social event of the year, the Mid-Winters, brought Ray Anthony and his orchestra. Ralph Flanagan provided the music for the Spring Finals which wound up the club's social activities.

Other officers include Marvin Ferrell, Vice-President; Bill Rue, Secretary; George Blackwelder, Treasurer. Fraternities belonging are: Pi Kappa Alpha, Delta Psi, Phi Gamma Delta, Phi Delta Theta, Beta Theta Pi, Alpha Tau Omega, Zeta Psi, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Delta Kappa Epsilon, Sigma Nu, Kappa Alpha, Sigma Chi, and Kappa Sigma.

The President and his right hand men.

The German Club claimed this as their first big week-end of the year. The eventful two days started Friday afternoon at four o'clock with Woody Herman's concert. Memorial Hall rocked with the welcoming notes of "Woodchopper's Ball," and the "Carolina Gentlemen" and their dates kept time to his fascinating rhythms.

The executive board and their dates formed the figure at the Friday night dance. The ribands worn by the boys gave an atmosphere of distinction to the figure. The hops were outstanding successes as evidenced by the large attendance.

MIDWINTERS

The sweet music of Ray Anthony and his orchestra echoed throughout Woollen Gymnasium on February 9 at the German Club sponsored Mid-Winters dance. The Figure was unusually impressive because of the beautiful flowers adorning the girls and the white gloves worn by their escorts.

Ray Anthony

Ray Anthony and his orchestra

The concert held in Memorial Hall on Saturday afternoon was an outstanding success and the dance that night proved to be more than an ample conclusion to a successful week-end.

"The man with a Horn" thrilled hundreds, and students were humming the strains of his "sweet" music in the weeks following when the Mid-Winters were only a pleasant memory.

The Skyliners

One of the country's most talked-of young bandleaders, Ralph Flanagan, brought the year's social activities to a fitting climax when he furnished the tempo for the dancers at the German Club Finals. His own special style of smooth yet rhythmical dance music entranced the members and their dates.

The week-end activities began with a formal dance Friday night in Wool-len Gymnasium, at which the formation of the German Club figure was an impressive ceremony. A concert was given on Saturday afternoon from four to six; and the climaxing dance that night, starting at nine and ending at midnight, was from first to last perfection. Moreover it put "the cap" on a year of activities which the German Club will long remember.

The Singing Winde

Pledge dances adorn the winter quarter agenda with their formal pledge figure. Here, the Chi Omegas present their 1951 pledge class to the campus.

The Vets Club, now open to the entire student body through membership, attracts the portion of the students who cater to night clubbing.

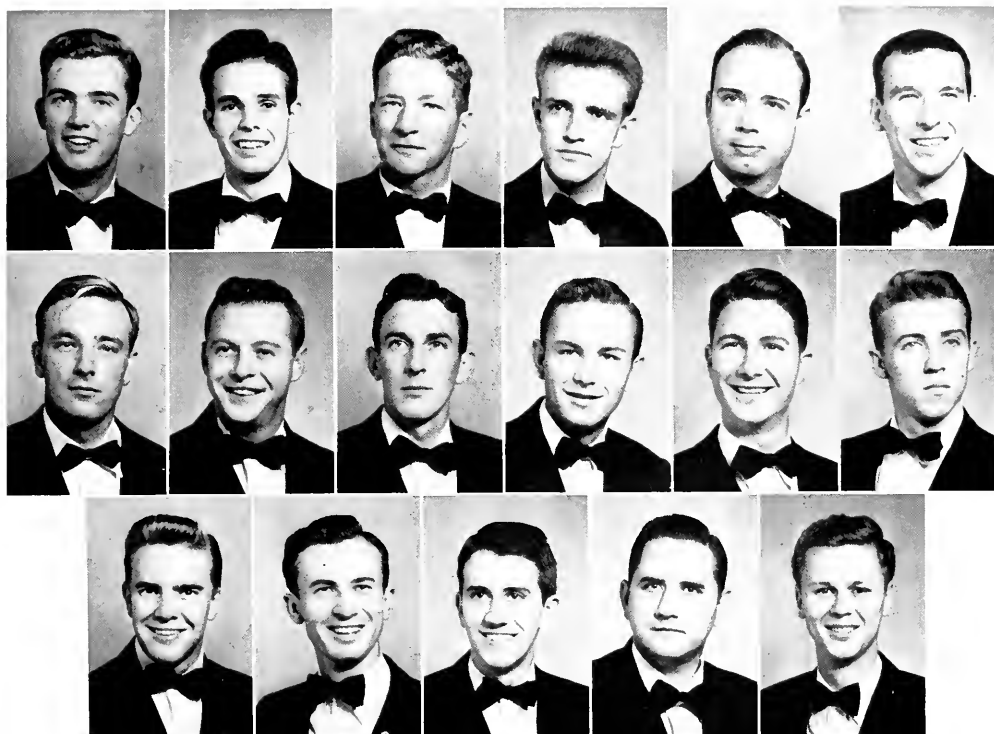

Staircase, Graham Memorial, besides housing a book shop, student offices and a wood working shop, offers the convenient and informal Rendezvous Room.

INFORMALS

Most every fraternity house turns into a dance parlor on week-ends. Pictured below is a portion of the festivities starting "the big week-end" at the Chi Phi House.

John Schofield
Chairman

The University Dance Committee has as its foremost objectives the role of host at Carolina dances and the task of maintaining order at social functions sponsored by campus organizations. This group of students, familiar in their formal dress with blue and white rosettes in their lapels, in their careful vigilance of campus dances are striving toward making Carolina dances the functions that both students and faculty desire. During the 1950-1951 season the Committee has effectively performed its duty. Headed this year by John Schofield, Chairman, the group has had a most successful year, both in helping to put on Carolina dances and guiding them toward perfection.

Dear Mr. Mills:

Selecting the winners of your beauty contest was a pleasant but difficult task. North Carolina girls are still as pretty as they were when I lived in the Tarheel State more than sixty years ago!

I am enclosing the photographs of the winners. The queen is Miss Fischelis (No. 9260), on the back of whose picture I have written the number 1.

I have put my initials on the back of the photographs of the fifteen 'runners-up' - who are surely beautiful enough to be called princesses at least.

You are to be commended for submitting more than one pose for each of the contestants. It is almost impossible to judge a person's appearance fairly from only one, particularly a profile.

With best wishes to the winners and all the contestants, and to Mr. Fox and yourself,

Sincerely,

Cecil B. DeMille
